Spreading Family Tree

(Clipped from an old Country Life, a perfectly beautiful weekly magazine published in England)

"A very tedious piece of work and very chargeable for I have doon it upon the best writing velam I could buy," wrote the compiler of the Darell family's pedigree in 1637; and its tediousness is not entirely surprising, for the pedigree covers 65 square feet of parchment. It was among the items in an exhibition of heraldic documents held in the art gallery of the Public Library at Tunbridge Wells, Kent. The Darell pedigree, which is 20 feet long, was prepared for Sir Robert Darell of Calehill by John Taylor, and is of exceptional interest not only for its fictitious portraits of some members of the family, but also for its addition of copies of deeds, brasses and sepulchral monuments. Taylor commented at the time: 'There will be I ame sure above 5 hundred coates yet I have nott counted them.' One can only hope that he was adequately rewarded for his very chargeable labours."

A reader made an amusing comment about our new cover design (which she described as fascinating). She thought the bare limb of the "family tree" might represent a skeleton in the closet that a researcher discovered, and hence did not enfoliate that branch further! I ascribed a more prosaic symbolism to the branch: a member of the family died childless. But, to be more optimistic, we could consider it a branch whose twigs may leaf out next spring. Here's hoping there will be no dead-end branches on your family tree!

**********

In the Oct 20, 1966, issue of Country Life appeared a full-page colored advertisement for White Horse Whisky. Above pictures of an old castle before which sheep grazed on the greensward, a suit of armor, and stained-glass windows depicting coats of arms, is this light-hearted advice:

"Live Like a Lord! To be an Aristocrat you need: Some very old ancestors in the thirteenth century...Some very rapacious ancestors in the eighteenth century...White Horse Whisky in the cellar..."

"The key to being an aristocrat is survival. You need ancestors to prove you've survived. That's the trick. It helps if they were rich. To found your line you need someone in the thirteenth century with a name like Angle the Jute. He was just there to lay down the real estate. He probably drank mead, Forget him. Ideally your great-great-grandfather should have been a pirate. This gives the coffers a shot in the arm. Coming to more civilised times, an aristocrat should cultivate his park and palate. For the park, very old trees, and a lawn like a billiard table. And, for the palate, White Horse Whisky,...For an aristocrat is simply a whisky connoisseur...."

If whiskey-drinking ancestors were the only criterion, some of us would be lords indeed!

...BROWN_HARDEMAn_MYERS_POLK_SEARS_WEaVER. Quoting from Polk Family and Kinsmen by Wm Harrison Polk, 1912: "In a letter received from J.M. Sears, of San Marcos, this state, one of the family, says:

'Your inquiry has been handed to me by my uncle, Frank M. Polk, of Fentress. In reply I am sending you all of the information that he knows in regard to his family. Warnell Polk, son of Taylor Polk, was born in Arkansas. Taylor Polk died when Warnell was seven years old; his mother died four years later.

'After his mother's death, Warnell came to Texas and stopped in Bastrop Co. with Jim Weaver, but left him when 14 years old and was taken in by Dr. D.F. Brown of Prairie Lea, Texas, and lived with Dr. Brown until he married Miss Irene Myers."

I would like further information on any of the persons mentioned, especially my great-great-grandfather, Warnell Polk, who was born in AR ca 1832. His parents died ca 1839 and 1843; Warnell m. in 1852. Leonidas Hardeman (son of Thomas Jones Hardeman and Mary Polk, an aunt of Mrs. D.F. Brown), also lived with the Browns in 1850. ---Peggy Anderson, Box 703, Staple TX 78670

...BENSON_HENRY_WAlTON. I would like to contact descendants of John D. and Elizabeth (Walton) Henry and of James and Lydia (Walton) Benson who came to Travis Co in 1849 with their brother Meredith Walton. They settled in Burdett's Bend on the Colorado River east of Austin. ---Mrs. P.J. Brown, 6525 Callahan Ct, Fort Worth TX 76112...

We are glad to welcome back a former (1965) member, Mr. A.J.
Knowles, 1301 S. Laurent, Victoria TX 77901, Andy is working on the FLEMING, BLACK, HOUSE, and STAGNER lines--write to him if you share any of these interests.

We are always glad to see former members return, and are hoping for a tidal wave of those who are said to have stayed away from our meetings because of smoke. Come breathe the purified air with us, ansearchers, now that we have banned smoking in the meeting room!

BICENTENNIAL THEME FOR WORKSHOP

"Who and Where Were Your Ancestors 200 Years Ago?" is a question often raised in these days of Bicentennial enthusiasm. A workshop designed to help people answer it will be conducted by AGS on Saturday, 16 Aug 1975, at Town Hall in Hancock Center, 1000 E. 41st and 135.

The Workshop Chairman is Ann (Pollard) Arthur, a new member who has many exciting plans underway. The June and July AGS Newsletters will contain registration blanks--send yours in early!

The Society is co-ordinating its plans with Mr. Beverly Sheffield, Director of the Office of Bicentennial Affairs in Austin. Advice on how to locate Revolutionary ancestors in the State Library will be given by Mrs. Eli G. Jordan, director of the Genealogy Collection there.

For the more experienced researcher, Mr. Ronald A. Bremer, a genealogical expert from CA, will offer many valuable tips on genealogical procedures. Mrs. Carolyn Croft will speak on the forthcoming LDS Stake Library in Austin, and Mrs. Deolece Parmalee of the Historical Commission will talk about historic sites in Texas. Mr. W. D. Carroll, 45 years with the Bureau of Vital Statistics, will offer advice on how to amend incomplete birth and death certificates.

Don't miss these and other interesting speakers at our third annual genealogical workshop open to the public!

In 1847 Miles Byrne arrived in Philadelphia from Ireland. In the early 50's he came to Galveston, Texas. He was a carpenter and cabinet maker. Hearing that there was work to be found in the construction on the new capitol building, he came to Austin. During the Civil War he made and repaired wagons for the army. He and his partner had their shop on Congress Avenue.

On Nov. 4, 1856 he married another Irish immigrant, Mary Smith. In 1857 their marriage was blessed and on record as the seventh at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. In due time they had eight boys. In 1877 they bought 175 acres five miles south of Austin, a part of the Santiago del Valle tract. At the time it had a stone building, used as a blacksmith shop, a grist mill, other buildings, a stock tank, and land that was good for farming. Burleson Road ran along the west and south sides.

There have been many changes since then. The old stone building is the only one still standing. Ben White was cut through the original land. In 1955 the old blacksmith shop was renovated into a home by one of his granddaughters and her husband, Alfred and Marguerite Byrne Brown. They are still living there today at 83 and 81. One of their daughters and her husband, Lou and Mary Frances Kiefer, live across the stock tank from them. Another granddaughter and her husband, Al and Lucille Bieter, live on another part of the original land. Up the hill where the original farmhouse stood, is the site of St. Peter's Church, on land given by Bernard Byrne, one of the sons of Mary and Miles Byrne.

JUDGE SEBRON GRAHAM SNEED

Judge S. G. Sneed, wife Miranda Adkins Sneed, nine of their eleven children, accompanied by slaves, hogs and cattle, started from Fayetteville, Arkansas, Oct. 1, 1848 headed for Austin. The trip took around two months since the pace was set by the hogs, the slowest animals.

Judge Sneed bought a block of ground in 1850 between Rio Grande and West, and what is now 10th and 11th streets. He built a large log cabin with a kitchen and slave quarters in back. This was home until the permanent house could be built on Comal Bluff, the name given to the 700 acres on what is now the old Lockhart's Road.

The plans for the big stone house were drawn by Abner H. Cook, a well known architect and contractor of that time. As stated in Minor and Major Mansions in Austin, by A. W. Harris, the work started in 1852 by the partnership of Sims, the mason and Miles Byrne, the carpenter. It took five years to build, with the war clouds stopping work before the finish.

As interesting note is that later a granddaughter of S. G. Sneed married a son of Miles Byrne. These were my grandparents.

NEED NAME OF THE FATHER OF CHARLES WESLEY JOHNSTON

WAS HE JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON?

Charles Wesley Johnston/Johnson b 9-11-1856 Meredan, Miss. d 1-2-1929 Golden, Wood Co., Texas, bur Union Chapel Cem., Van,Tx. m Smith County, Texas to Missouri Orezan Jordan dau of Jane Hamilton and William Jordan, m 1881. They had the following children: Mary married Sidney Aldrich, Jonnie married Henry Gilbert, the above born in Smith County, Texas. Alma did not marry born in WILSON COUNTY, TEXAS , Nora, died young, Fearle born 1894 in Van Zandt County Texas, married John Landrum Loftis, living May 1975 in Mineral wells Texas, (these are my parents), Leona did not marry. There were two sons born who died in infancy, only one was named, STREETER.

The first name of the father of Charles Wesley Johnston is not known. The said father of C.J. Johnston fought and died in the Civil war. Family tradition states that he came home where? in Mississippi, and that he was ill. His wife Mary Dunlap/ was walked " a way" with him and that was the last time he was seen. Johnston/ Johnson and Mary Dunlap had the following ch:

1. Charles Wesley Johnston, above named
2. Sidney Johnston m widow Sally Fly Hastings they had two daughters, one named Mamie.
3. Mary who married Jim Elder and had one son " Bill ". Mary died young.

Mary Jane Dunlap Johnston married a Mr. Gardner as her second husband possibly in Water Valley, Mississippi. Mary and Mr. Gardner with Charles Wesley, Sidney, and Mary came to Texas after the Civil War place and date not known. Counties that have been mentioned are: WILSON, GONZALES, and BEXAR.

Charles Wesley and Missouri C. were married in Smith County, Texas and they lived most of their married life in Smith County and Van Zandt County, Texas . They were in Wilson County, Texas for a while as Alma was born there in 1888. Charles Wesley Johnston was said to have been a Texas Ranger during the time they lived in the Wilson County area.

In an old Photo album, writing poor and very dim, on the back page is written: H.J. JOHNSTON - Book - Sunday, February 11, 1877.

Names of photographers on the backs of some of the pictures:
PIERCE & BROS., WATER VALLEY, MISS--W.T. BROOKS, WATER VALLEY, MISS.
TWEETER AND DAHEMBERG, WATER VALLEY, MISS. and D.P. BARR, SAN ANTONIO, TX.

A list of the names that appear on some of the photographs are:

1. Mrs. M.J. Gardner
2. Hamie Johnston
3. C.W. Johnston--two tin types
4. Albert wright (a small child)
5. Jim Armstrong
6. Bill Armstrong
7. Geneva and Herman Grace (small children)
8. Mr Gar
9. Lewis Johnson
10. A.J. Kelly and a young lady, both are young adults
11. Bill Green (Willie) cousin to C.W. Johnston lived near him in Van Zandt County near Grand Saline
12. Joseph E. Johnson a man seated on a horse, tin type.

On the side of a blank space is written: J.S? or E? Johnston.

Pearle Johnston Loftis, my mother is the only living child of Charles Wesley Johnston. She does not rember ever having heard her father mention the name of his father. Mary Jane Dunlap Johnston Gardner died when my mother was a small child, probably 1900-1905 place not known.

Any help on the name of my great grandfather will be appreciated.

I am compiling a history of the descendants of JOB LOFTIS born ca 1739 in Delaware in to North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama. Would like to correspond with all Loftis relations.
