FIRST SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, AUSTIN, TEXAS

ROLL OF MEMBERS

Twenty years ago, in Volume VIII Number 4, AGS Quarterly Editor Evelyn Morris published abstracts of the 1875-93 records of Baptisms in the above-named church, which she had so skillfully researched and prepared. Following those valuable records she presented (pp. 94-102) abstracts of the Minutes of the Session for the years 1875-78.

Remaining in the present editor's inherited files are many photocopied pages pertaining to the First Southern Presbyterian Church. Since they contain dates of arrival in Austin and departure therefrom, death dates, and relationships of families, it is felt that they will be of interest to many, especially when compared with the previously published records.

The following "Roll of Members," handwritten on "Minutes of Session" pages, is rather hard to read. There are so many names scratched out, so many words superimposed over ditto marks, and so many remarks or comments entered later but placed before the data about joining the church that it is very difficult to interpret all the data correctly.

There are no column headings or even alignment. The comments refer to (a) how the person was received into membership (by letter from previous church, on profession/confession of faith, or on examination); (b) what had become of the member since then (Dismissed to another Presbyterian church, Dropped to join another denomination, Died, Placed on Retired Roll, or Placed on New Roll).

In the minutes of the Session dated 1 Jan 1877 it appears that the Clerk was instructed to revise the membership roll and place "R.R." after the names of members who moved away without obtaining letters of dismission to the church where they moved to. Such members were to be regarded as "constituting a Resolved Roll," but a note on the membership roll below says "R.R. means retired roll." [This editor does not understand the connotation of "Resolved" in this connection - they had not resolved the problem of learning where their former members had scattered to!]

In the heading of the "Roll of Members" which starts on the next page there is a reference to the "old Roll, pages 280-288." This roll is infinitely neater than the one on pages 240-256 of the book, each page of which has "Minutes of Session" printed at the top. The "old" roll is written in a small but consistent hand. The e's are so tightly closed that they are distinguishable from the i's only by the fact that the latter are definitely dotted without fail. Thus the name formerly interpreted as Gravis becomes (in my opinion) Graves; Jinkins becomes Jenkins; Harris turns out to be Hawes. Wm is easily confused with Mr and even Mr's, but by checking both rolls I was able to reach a decision.

The old Roll gives information on how (and sometimes when) the person became a member, and how and/or when membership in this congregation was terminated. Entries from 20 Nov 1876 - 27 Mch 1881 are dated. For consistency, I have modernized the form of dates and abbreviations of months.

In order to present as much information as possible, data from the two rolls have been combined, and the names have been alphabetized for readers' convenience.

At the top of this old roll (pp. 280-88 in the Minutes Book) is a list of "Members when the late civil war began and terminated" - viz. COOK, Abner H. & Mrs. Eliza; HUTCHINS, James H. & Mrs. Frances A.; WALKER, Mrs. Ann; "Wallace Maxwell deceased 1871" [I think Maxwell was the surname - Ed.]; MAXWELL, Mrs. Wallace deceased 1871 [may mean deceased by 1871, not in 1871 - Ed.]; REED, Mrs.; TOWNSEND, Mrs. Leah deceased; SMITH, Mrs. Eliza Jane; LAURENCE, Mrs. Ann dismissed to Round Rock Ch.; RAYFORD, Mrs. Fanny J. dismissed to church in Georgia.

On page 281 several are marked "original member": WILSON, Mrs. Augusta; WADDELL, D. & Mrs. H.A.; and CARR, Mrs. N.J.

"ROLL OF MEMBERS, exclusive of such as are on the Retired Roll - for which see old Roll, pages 280-288 & names marked R.R."

FAMILY LAND HERITAGE PROGRAM

Each year since 1974 the Texas Department of Agriculture has recognized families who have operated a farm or ranch on the same land continuously for at least a hundred years. Brief histories of the award-winning families, naming the successive land owners and their children and grouped under the respective county name, are published annually.

Since the attractive volumes (which include many heirloom pictures) have the names of only the current land owners in their indexes, AGS Quarterly is attempting to remedy that deficiency, as space permits. Instead of page numbers, we group the names by their counties (which cover only a few pages each, and are in alphabetical order), assuming that researchers will want to read all about their ancestors' neighboring relatives and friends.

Apologies are offered if some surnames are wrong - sometimes the narratives are hard to interpret as to generations - whether Tom, Dick and Mary are children of the founder or his daughter.

Married names are in parentheses in the book, but the genealogical form (maiden names in parentheses) is used herein. If a name is unknown, we put three dots in parentheses; nicknames are in quotation marks; editorial suggestions in brackets; "pic" indicates that there is a picture of family members or buildings on the given page.

It is indeed a desirable thing to be well descended,
But the glory belongs to our ancestors.

Plutarch (A.D. 46-120)

(AGS member Belle Cook sent us the above, so aptly quoted from Plutarch's "Of the Training of Children" on the cover of Confederate Veteran magazine, to both of whom we are indebted. It seems appropriate to add lines that Alexander Pope (A.D. 1688-1744) wrote in his "Essay on Man", Epistle iv:)

Honour and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part - there all the honour lies.
THE GRACY FAMILY OF NEW YORK AND TEXAS by Alice Duggan Gracy; maps by Watt Harris Jr.; (c) 1986; cloth-bound; printer's type; 6 x 9+; 195 + x pages; over 30 illustrations; full-name index; appendix; notes; $24.50 from Mrs. David C. Gracy, 2425 Ashdale Drive, # 76, Austin TX 78758.

This really splendid book is a joy to connoisseurs of family histories and a joy-filled revelation to members of the families involved. The Gracy Family of New York and Texas embraces not only families named Gracey, Gracie, Gracy, the French Gras(s)et, and Greasie, but members of families named Messenger, Caldwell, Bergen, Valentine, Haynie, Pratt, Washington, et al.

As a tribute to her father-in-law, Mr. D.B. Gracy, Alice (Duggan) Gracy has revealed his background by putting together the results of her own research and that of Charles Alfred Gracy Jr. The corpus of the work in enhanced by documents preserved by Harriet Valentine Gracy; by the research conducted by Thomas J. Caldwell Jr.; and by the legal expertise of John A. Gracy. The book is further embellished by the attractive and authentic maps drawn by Watt Harris Jr. and by personal details elicited from New York relatives by Jane Gracy Bedichek.

The satisfyingly logical format of The Gracy Family begins with a Chart of Relationships of Sarah (7th generation) Messenger who married Daniel (1) Gracy; then covers the historical and geographical backgrounds of each family treated, each section being followed by a pertinent bibliography. Locales: Massachusetts Bay Colony, New Haven (Connecticut) Colony, Jamaica (Queens County) New York, and central Texas.

Excerpts of census returns, wills, and other public records re-inforce the biographical accounts. The source of each item is given either in the text or in a footnote on the same page, in most cases. Besides the three major families studied, there are several pages of expanded "Notes on the Bergen Family" and on the Valentine family.

"The Gracy Family" section occupies over fifty pages, supplemented in the Appendix by research notes, charts, a bibliography; wills, personal details, Bible records, and so on.

The full-name Index includes a number of topics (Huguenots, Indians, Newspapers, Runaway Scrape, Ships, etc.) and place names (Bastrop, Rutersville College, Scotland, e.g.). The index is optimally legible, but space-wasteful - for example, the name Gracy is repeated some 95 times, and Smith about 30.

The reader is advised to study the Explanatory Notes that precede the text. Your reviewer passed them over with merely a glance and therefore was puzzled by the appearance of a plus sign before some names and had to go back. Mrs. Gracy has hit upon a long-needed device: placing an asterisk before the "m." to indicate that the marriage was terminated by divorce.

The sheer beauty of this little book was achieved by using real printer's type on lovely ecru vellum paper, with wide margins and clear, uncrowded photographs inserted at appropriate points. The two-color maps are delightful to browse on - nutritious as well as delicious fodder. They are printed on the end papers, which is a great convenience for the reader.

The only criticism this reviewer can make regarding the physical appearance of the book is the near invisibility of the superior numerals designating the person's generation. This flaw, of course, is the fault of the printer, who should have warned the author. Readers are hereby forewarned to keep a magnifying glass handy. This little obstacle is especially annoying in lists of descendants, such as on pages 71-72, in which the birth dates are aligned. When they run 1948, 1979, 1950, it is startling, but microscopic examination of the superior figures brings the realization that three generations are encompassed in the list, and offspring are neither indented under their parents nor preceded by a numeral or letter to differentiate them.

This book is not light reading, merely anecdotal, but it gives one the satisfaction of feeling that really thorough research has been conducted. This reader did not get the feeling that she should go there in person and double check the statements set forth herein. The historical highlights of the pertinent colonies will be of interest to anyone whose ancestors were in the same regions as the Gracy family and their collaterals.

One unusual feature of the book that should be appreciated by older generation readers: Instead of a Dedication Page per se, Mrs. Gracy has reproduced an appropriate poem written by her then-twelve-year-old granddaughter, Mary Beth.

Alice Duggan Gracy instructed me to "pull no punches" in reviewing this work (the latest of several fine family histories and source books she has compiled), but I find it hard to find something to complain about! However, rather than besmirch my reputation as a merciless book reviewer, I list the following flaws. I have laboriously found - most of them so minor I hate to mention them:

Front endpapers: The word "relevant" is misspelled.
In one bibliography, Encyclopedia Britannica should be pae.
Page 59 - Accent on the wrong e of née, which is the feminine form of né, meaning "born".
Page 70 - St. Johns' Church - no doubt the misplaced apostrophe was the newspaper's error.
Page 81 - Omission of a syllable in dividing the word produced the amusing typo "diving rod" for "divining rod".
Page 85 - "a fieri faicas" should be fieri facias.
Page 105 - superfluous apostrophe in "her's". Also on that page it is stated that if the Colorado River was in flood, cotton was taken to Bastrop and placed on barges, then towed down the river to the docks in Galveston. The Colorado does not empty into Galveston or West Bay, nor do the Galveston docks extend to the mouth of any river, as far as I can tell from maps consulted.
Page 106 (and others) - It looks as if occasional interpolations in parentheses should have been in square brackets, as they seem unlikely to have been in the original quotation.
Page 121 - This is a quibble or question, not a correction. Footnote reads: "Noorman was interchangeable with Norway, meaning the North Country." Would'n it be a variant of Norman or Norseman, a man of the North Country?

Alice Duggan Gracy was one of the principal founders of Austin Genealogical Society in 1960, and I'm sure I speak for the entire membership when I congratulate and compliment her on producing such a superior book as The Gracy Family of New York and Texas. It can be seen in the Genealogy Collection of Texas State Library in Austin. It serves as a fine role model for aspiring genealogical writers.
MUSTER ROLLS OF THE TEXAS REVOLUTION published by Daughters of the Republic of Texas, Inc. (c) 1986. Hardbound, 8½ x 11+"; 318 pp.; full-name index.

This handsome book is a sesquicentennial project of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, and the copy in Texas State Library Genealogy Collection is the gift of the Martin Wells Chapter at Round Rock. It is uniquely valuable in that this is the first time the Muster Rolls have been fully indexed.

In addition to the Muster Rolls themselves there are letters from the Quartermaster General's office, and interesting appendices. These contain such prized items as a hitherto little-known muster roll discovered in the courthouse at San Augustine; Militia Lists of "Beats" (men who perhaps participated in no battles but protected their own communities as an organized unit); a list of men who received Donation Certificates for capturing Bexar 5-10 December 1835; men whose names were to be to the Honor Roll at San Jacinto Museum of History; and a receipt pertaining to the division of the spoils taken at the Battle of San Jacinto by Capt. Wm. M. Logan's company.

The two-column index is eminently legible, as the surnames are in boldface capitals and the given names in Roman caps and lower case, verbatim. Variant spellings are separate entries in alphabetical order.

Provenance of the records used is given in the Preface: Texas State Archives, General Land Office, Sam Houston Regional Library and Research Center, D.R.T. Library and similar repositories.

The chairman of the committee responsible for preparing this fine work, Mrs. Robert O. Simpson, modestly refrained from putting her name at the foot of the Acknowledgments page. She and they are to be commended for including the page number of the book of Muster Rolls on which each of the rolls may be found. Therefore an interested person can easily consult the manuscript and better interpret doubtful spelling when a veteran is well known to him.

A two-page list of abbreviations and definitions will be very helpful to the reader ... but why they abbreviated Cavalry "Cal." is beyond me. Too many people already mispronounce cavalry as if it were Calvary, the Crucifixion site near Jerusalem! The editors may retort that it occurs that way in some original records, but I daresay that some soldiers misspelled Lieutenant too, yet "Leiut." is not shown as an abbreviation. Have they edited out misspellings that are most likely to have occurred? (batallion, sarjint, seige, court marshall ....)

The letters from the Office of the Quartermaster General are dated 1 May to 3 August 1839 and, though a little on the tedious side, will reward the persistent reader with important information.

The Muster Rolls themselves list (by companies) the veterans of military engagements 1835-1846, such as the Alamo, Col. Fannin's Command at Goliad, the Siege of Bexar, San Jacinto, and units remaining in the army thereafter. There are lists of killed and wounded for some engagements, and very interesting "Remarks" on many of the rolls.

As might be expected on handwritten rolls, the forms and information vary from roll to roll, but most give name, rank, when and where enlisted, term of enlisted, and remarks. In the Remarks column may be found dates of promotions, misdemeanors, illnesses, wounds, death, when transferred to another company, etc.

Those interested in Company E, 1st Regiment Texas Infantry, Permanent Volunteers have a bonanza in store. Some 65 men in that company are described as to rank, age, height, skin, hair, eyes, occupation, birthplace, arrival in the country, enrolled where and by whom, enlistment period, etc.

Muster Rolls of the Texas Revolution will be the perfect companion for Republic of Texas Pension Applications Abstracts, soon to be released by the Sesquicentennial Committee of Austin Genealogical Society. In fact, the chairman of the Book Publications subcommittee, John C. Barron, expressed regret that they did not have the DRT book to help them decipher puzzling names while preparing the AGS projext. He and this reviewer suggest that, in the second edition, charts be inserted to show the Table of Organization of the Texas Army at a glance – which captains were in which battalion, battalions in regiments, etc.

Also, a more detailed table of contents would have been helpful; something like "Alamo, pages -- to --; Bexar, Siege of, pages -- to --; Fannin/Goliad, same; San Jacinto, same; Standing Army, same."

All Texas history buffs owe a debt of gratitude to the patriotic Daughters for publishing this splendid source book, a tremendous task well done.

LETTING THE SKELETON OUT OF THE CLOSET!

When writing our family histories we sometimes have to decide whether to omit or admit certain facts that have been revealed by our search of public records. It seems to me that this age of frankness about sexual relations and private weaknesses is an appropriate time to bring such things out into the open. Revelation now may prevent embarrassment and disappointment in the future.

If an illegitimacy or an adoption is concealed, some of our descendants might be refused membership in a patriotic society which insists on direct descent and unquestionable bloodlines. An expert examination of the applicant's lineage charts could reveal flaws that she/he was unaware of.

An example of such a case: A certain father refused to permit his daughter to marry her suitor until he could support her "in the manner to which she was acccustomed." But young love will have its way, so after a while the young girl faced up to the painful necessity of telling her father (her mother had been dead six years) that he'd be sorry if he didn't let them marry right away!

He made the best of the situation; helped the young man get a job in another state, and sent out handsomely engraved invitations to a home wedding.

The child was born five months after the marriage, perfectly legitimate in the eyes of the law, which officially imputes paternity to the husband.

As you've probably guessed by now, I was that child. My maternal grandfather's Bible entry gives my birth date as 6 November 1911, and my parents' wedding date as 12 February 1911.

I used that birth date on all official records - after all, I had always received birthday gifts on that day, so why should I doubt it? But when I was in training for the Red Cross Volunteer Motor Corps during World War II, a birth certificate was one of the requirements.

To my amazement, the State of Missouri sent me one dated 19 June 1911 - too far from November to be a twin and too near to be a sibling! Both my Christian names are on the certificate, and all data about my parents seemed correct. I had to face it; or, I should have, but I concealed the fact that my idolized, idealized mother (who had died when I was nine) had slipped from the straight and narrow, and I was a bastard, more or less. I must confess, this discovery cast me into an emotional maelstrom from which I could not escape for many years.

When I confronted my father with the evidence, he was crushed with remorse, and told me the whole story. A few months after I was born, my mother padded herself out to fit her maternity clothes and went back home on a visit, to carry out the charade they had planned. Fortunately, I was always small for my age, so when they moved back to their home town, apparently no one "counted on her fingers."

One bit of this tale is still puzzling. When I finally got around to ordering a copy of my parents' marriage license, I discovered that it was dated 25 January 1911, not 12 February 1911 as entered in Grandfather's Bible. Of course, licenses are often secured well ahead of the wedding date, but this copy indicates that the Rev. Charles Dobbs performed the ceremony on the 25th. Could there have been a private service before the one with invited guests? It seems more likely that when the clerk registered the returned license in the book, he put the wrong date beside the minister's signature. My father told me that the wedding had to be postponed because he had an acutely infected arm - "almost lost it".

So - at last I have overcome the embarrassment, and can talk about it, now that my grandchildren are grown. I believe I have satisfactorily accounted for the discrepancies in dates, and my descendants can face the ruthless scrutiny of DAR, DRT, UDC, Daughters of 1812, and so on.

But it's just too much trouble to change the dates on driver's license, passport, voter's registration and everything, since I never claimed to be older than I really am. I didn't cheat on claiming Social Security benefits, as I retired at the end of December.

Now I'll see if "Truth is the highest thing that man may keep," as Chaucer claimed, or if "whispering tongues can poison truth" (Coleridge, Christabel part ii). Will I be ostracized as a wood's colt?

After I started writing this I received a most persuasive mailing piece from Heritage Quest. It describes what they have accomplished in a short time and makes membership sound very attractive. They offer for rent or sale many audio and video tapes, including the one shown below. [Although it is against our policy to accept advertising, we make this exception because it is so amazingly appropriate to the above article!]

SOME KEENE - COX RECORDS

AGS member Kathy Hardin of Bosque County (address above) sent in some interesting family records given her by her Aunt Ola Roberts of Cedar Creek, Bastrop Co, TX. Hugh and Mary (Levering) Cox were the grandparents of Kathy's mother and aunt.

The paper seems to be headed "What I have gathered on the Keene family" by Willard L. Keene, and states that he didn't know the names of his great-grandparents, but knew they had four sons: Dick, Edward, William and Josh. Willard's grandfather, William P. Keene, came to Texas about 1870.

CLASSICAL NAMES CUT DOWN TO SIZE

Knowingly or not, parents tend to "make a statement" when they name their children. They show where their interests lie when they honor someone, relative or hero, whom they consider a worthy role model. In the past few centuries, when knowledge of ancient history and mythology was perhaps the first criterion of culture, they frequently gave their offspring classical names, making them the namesakes of Greek lawmakers, Roman rulers, foreign places, and even pagan gods and goddesses, no matter how Christian they might profess to be.

The same statement may be applied to the names of slaves in America, but perhaps a satiric sense of humor prompted this practice. The owners did not expect or even hope that the recipient would live up to such lofty names as Erastus (a Swiss theologian of the 16th Century) or Aeneas Africanus or Epaminondas (Theban statesman and general ca 418-362 B.C.). Incidentally, perhaps Erastus Smith was glad to trade his given name for the descriptive nickname Deaf ["Deef"] Smith rather than the usual Rastus!

On the other hand, proud parents no doubt hoped their children would grow up to display the finest traits that had been exemplified by the famous bearer of the name they had chosen.

(Not included in this premise are biblical names. Thousands of parents who could barely sign their names were familiar with the Bible and, perhaps feeling that there was little else they could bestow on a child, gave him or her a grand-sounding biblical name - even if they couldn't spell it properly or if it represented a less-than-ideal character like Delilah!)

But human beings cannot exist on Parnassus: polysyllabic Greek and Latin names don't fit comfortably on chubby, lovable babes or grubby, freckled schoolmates, so, naturally, those lofty classical names were whittled down to lowly nicknames. Examples as:

- Araminta from Aminta (Greek, meaning "protect") with variant Amynta and such nicknames as Mindy.
- Aspasia (from Greek word for "welcome"), who was the consort of Pericles, an Athenian statesman who died 429 B.C. [I shudder to think what her nickname may have been - perhaps she'd get Spacey today!]
- Caroline is a feminine name derived from Carolus Magnus (Charlemagne). "Lo, how are the mighty fallen!" when a girl with this name allows herself to be called Carrie.
- The name Cassandra (for Trojan King Priam's daughter with whom Apollo fell in love, then doomed to a total lack of credibility) has dwindled to Cassie and Sandy, then acquired the status of a proper name - Sandra.
- Roman Diana, goddess of the moon and the chase, was the same as the Greek Cynthia, Phoebe, and Artemis - Di, Cyndi, Artie ....
- Elfrida is an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "elf-peace". (Frieda is Germanic "peace")
- Euclid was a Greek geometrician of around 300 B.C. (Did you think Ukie got his moniker by playing the ukulele?)
- Eugene comes from the Greek via Latin and means "Well-born". Eugenics is a cousin of genealogy.
- Eursule probably is a misspelling of Ursula (Latin, "little she-bear"), a 5th Century saint of Cornish birth.
Felix (Latin, "fortunate, blessed") was the name of four popes and several saints. It seems to have survived intact. How could you shorten it - Flix?

Florence, the city in Italy now known as Firenze, is a name that has been bestowed on men as well as women. Nicknames: Flo, Flossie, Flossy, Phonsie Frank X. no doubt harks back to St. Francis Xavier. The latter word comes from the Arabic word for "splendid" which was adopted from the Moors by the Spanish and became synonymous with "Saviour".

Glamorous Helen of Troy has been toned down to "nice Nellie", a dull comedown indeed!

Jennie is usually from Jane, but is also a nickname for Jennifer, which is the same as Guinevere, wife of legendary King Arthur.

Lydia, an ancient country in Asia Minor once ruled by fabulously wealthy Croesus, looks rather poor as Liddie.

Madaline (French Madeleine) descends from the Hebrew Magdalen, "woman of Magdala." Although most theological scholars now agree that Mary Magdalene was not a prostitute, it still has a bad connotation in some cultures. Bearers of this name are often called Maddy or Mattie, but the latter more often refers to Martha.

Regina and Rex (Latin for queen and king) represent an almost unattainable ambition, but in recent years some commoners have achieved it!

Selina (Selena, Greek meaning "fair as the moon") is a risky choice for a baby who might develop a face that "would break a camera," as the saying goes.

Seraphine (Hebrew, "an angel") also may fall short of living up to her name. She could change it to Sarah ("princess") and still be called Sary.

Sophia (Greekm "wisdom"), alas, often sags down to a comfortable Sofy.

Shifting to the unfathomable world of television, I call your attention to the series "Dallas." Probably because of its connotation (if someone informed them of it), the sagacious powers that be have assigned the name Darius to a racehorse. Darius (long i), whose Latin name means "possessing wealth," was a Persian king who lived five to four hundred years B.C. The TV actors call his namesake Darry-us to rhyme with Carry-us!

The SPRING SEMINAR of Harris County Genealogical Society on March 14th will feature Dr. JAMES D. WALKER who will be speaking about federal military and related records. Retired after 35 years of service in the National Archives, Dr. Walker is sure to give valuable advice about the genealogical use of Federal Military Benefit Records.

The cost is $15 including lunch; the place: Park Place United Methodist Church, 3827 Broadway, Houston, Texas.

In hopes that this will reach you in time, here is the address for registration: Margaret S. Henson, 6723 Richwood, Houston TX 77087 (713) 645-8361.
SPECIFICATIONS FOR JUNE "ANCESTOR LISTING" ISSUE

Since the subject of our Society's annual seminar in August will be German immigrants and German records, it is hoped that all our members who are blessed with German ancestors will flaunt them in our June Quarterly! Even if you have previously published their records in AGS Quarterly, you probably have added some interesting bits to your charts, and it would be A Good Thing to bring them to the attention of possible cousins at this time.

Those who have no ties to the Vaterland may send in whatever they choose. Our president has expressed a wish that all Board members submit at least a basic lineage chart with themselves as No. 1.

To review the guidelines for the Ancestor Listings pages: If yours is a $12 membership you may send in two pages; $14 gets you four pages, whether a single or a couple membership. Your pages will face each other, so allow extra space for hole punching and stapling on the inner margins (i.e., left-hand pages will have more margin on the right-hand side, and vice versa).

If your charts run the 11" direction, the editor will try to place them so that nothing will be obliterated in the binding margin.

Your pages must be "camera-ready" -- black (not pale photocopies), legible (not handwritten), have plenty of margin, and no ambiguous dates like 3/11/22. Your name and address should be on each page to help the reader to find you and the editor to avoid mixing your entry with someone else's [not someones else!].

You may use lineage or pedigree charts, family group sheets, charts of your own design (if it is understandable to a stranger), Ahnentafel (Ancestor Table), Biography (if not lifted from a copyrighted book), Anecdotes, census records, a group of queries, Bible records - or a combination of formats. See former June issues of the Quarterly for examples. Last year we had some fine charts made on a computer with ample footnotes giving sources, etc.

DEADLINE: May 10th 1987 at 2202 W. 10, Austin TX 78703. If you send your entries to the AGS postoffice box it is unlikely that they will reach the editor in time. She will be too busy preparing the June issue to run down to the Library to check the Society's mailbox every other whipstitch.

If you have questions, don't hesitate to call the editor at 477-7313 between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. We really do want your entries, but we (speaking for the Society, not just the editorial "we") don't want to depreciate the quality of our publication by printing illegible charts or smudged pages.
ORPHAN TRAIN FOLLOW-UP........ In November 1986 we published a one-page summary of an article in the Smithsonian magazine about children being taken west on orphan trains. (AGSQ XXVII p. 152). The query quoted below appeared in the December 1986 issue of The Hoosier Genealogist and is so pertinent that we venture to quote it in full, trusting that ye editor will have no objection to our publicizing the request further.

"Would like to contact descendants of waifs who came to Indiana on the "Orphan Trains": 3 possible orphanages were NY Children's Aid Society, NYC; New England Home of the Little Wanderers, Boston MA; Children's Home, Cincinnati OH. -- Phyllis Leedom, Chairman, Search Committee, Madison County Historical Society, Inc., P. O. Box 523, Anderson IN 46015."

TEXANA Magazine...... Have you any copies that you would be willing to part with? If so, contact our dedicated member and ex-treasurer Julia Vinson (Mrs. Stanley L.) at 3106 Skylark Drive, Austin TX 78757 (512) 453-4324.

A NEW GIMMICK........In an effort to impute authenticity to her work, one of the authors of alleged "family histories" uses your surname as her middle name in her solicitation now. Don't be taken in by the attempt to make you think you are "kissing cousins" with the compiler of "your" family history, unless you enjoy paying over $25 for a book worth (in my opinion) under 25c.

It is to be hoped that this little subterfuge will backfire on her, as his did on a soldier who defied the Army's order that he should not tell his parents where he was stationed in World War II. He had told them that he would name the place by using a different middle initial on each successive letter home, so in the return address area he carefully wrote Bill G. Smith, Bill R. Smith, Bill A. Smith and Bill N. Smith. But the letters reached home out of order, so his parents spent weeks poring over world maps, looking for "Nora."

A TIP TO THOSE RESEARCHING BLACK GENEALOGY........In 1875, Texas Attorney General George Clark pronounced his decision: ". . . . the fact that the applicant was a slave at the time of [military] service did not disqualify him from receiving a pension, provided he met the other conditions." (Republic of Texas Pension Application Abstracts - on page 315 when noted on proofs, but repagination may have occurred subsequently.) So - don't neglect to search pension records of all kinds.

LIBRARY LOSSES...... According to The Alcalde, it costs about $50 to replace, catalogue and reshell a stolen book, and $11 to replace a torn-out magazine article. "To raise students' awareness of the problem the University has exhibited the mangled remains of some books that students had slit, ripped apart or otherwise ... damaged."
We are indebted to Mary Beth Lozo of Canyon Lake, Texas for still another generous gesture. She sent us a copy of a most interesting and informative article that appeared in The Texas Freemason, Fall 1986 issue.

The photograph that accompanies the article portrays the gravestone of Elizabeth Miller who, in 1875, was buried in the "Old Spiller Graveyard" in southeastern McCulloch County, Texas. In two concentric circles under her name, the letters FNDOZ, BTKC surround the letters AMKY arranged almost like a star. Below that is engraved "Wife of Joseph Miller Born [illegible in this copy—perhaps November something 1818], then what seems to be a ribbon bearing the date July 17th [?] 1875. The ribbon appears to be woven in and out of the word DIED in very large capital letters.

The puzzling emblem was brought to the attention of Mr. Wayne Spiller, Past Master, Camp San Saba Lodge No. 555, and county historian of McCulloch County (directly west of San Saba County). For many years, Mr. Spiller eagerly sought the explanation; now, while of course he could not reveal the secret significance of the letters to the uninitiated, he has at last solved the mystery.

A letter from Mrs. A.C. White of Fort Worth, a great-granddaughter of Joseph and Elizabeth (Conner) Miller, revealed that she had written to the Masonic Service Association in Silver Spring, Maryland to ask about the strange emblem. In his reply, the Executive Secretary informed her that the emblem signified "a Mason's Daughter."

Coil's Masonic Encyclopedia states: "Denslow . . . Mason's Daughter and Mason's Wife, the former of which he states was founded upon a legend connecting Mary, sister of Lazarus, with Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem. It had certain modes of recognition, and a signet bearing the letters AMRY (Mary) encircled by the letters FNDOZ, BTKC." [Ed. Note: The Z looks more like an S in the picture of Elizabeth Miller's gravestone.]

Another authority, Mackey's Revised Encyclopedia of Freemasonry has this definition: "Mason's Wife and Daughter—a Degree frequently conferred in the United States on wives, daughters and mothers of Freemasons to secure to them, by investing them with a peculiar mode of recognition, the aid and assistance by any Master Mason, and the requirement is that the recipient shall be the wife, unmarried daughter, unmarried sister or widowed mother of a Master Mason."

Mr. Spiller concludes his article: "We may only surmise the original source of Elizabeth's eligibility, not knowing the date of her membership. There were other Conners [her maiden name] with Masonic affiliations in McCulloch, Llano and Burnet counties—perhaps one may be entitled to confer her Degree."

If any of our readers can shed some light on this question we hope you will write to the Editor of AGS Quarterly at 2202 W. 10, Austin TX 78703.

This article provides a valuable clue to anyone who notices such an emblem in a cemetery. A search of Masonic records in the vicinity may identify the woman's husband, son, father or brother.
TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR GENEALOGISTS

Reprinted with the permission of Rabbi Malcolm H. Stern from his lecture "THE ETHICS OF GENEALOGY" at the FGS Meeting in Orlando, FL September 1986.

I. I am a genealogist dedicated to true knowledge about the families I am researching.

II. Thou shalt use family traditions with caution and only as clues.

III. Thou shalt not accept as gospel every written record or printed word.

IV. Thou shalt not hang nobility or royalty on your family tree without verifying with experts.

V. Thou shalt clearly label the questionable and the fairy tale.

VI. Thou shalt handle all records in such a way that the next users will find them in the same condition you did.

VII. Thou shalt credit those who help you and ask permission of those whose work you use.

VIII. Thou shalt not query any source of information without supplying postage.

IX. Thou shalt respect the sensitivities of the living in whatever you record but tell the truth about the dead.

X. Thou shalt not become a genealogical teacher or authority without appropriate training and certification.

[Thanks to The Hoosier Genealogist, December 1986, for propagating these important ethical precepts.]
Miss Jan Carter, Supervisor of the Texas State Library's Genealogy Collection, informed the Society of the impending deficit (See AGS Quarterly for March 1986 p. 34) and sought our assistance, since State agencies cannot solicit funds. The Friends Association was formed in response to this call. The Friends will help the Genealogy Collection acquire census indexes which become available during these lean budget years.

That's what the "by" in the lengthy title means. AGS was the organizer or sponsor of the "Friends" and will make every effort to bring this worthy cause to the attention of those who enjoy the use of the Genealogy Collection. All who contribute become equal members of the "Friends," a volunteer association with no officers, no dues, no meetings and no rules! Even a small donation entitles you to call yourself a Friend of the State Library, Genealogy Collection.

A jar to receive contributions has been placed on top of the microfilm cases and will, it is hoped, catch your eye (and your coins) whenever you enter the room. Is there a family researcher in Texas who has not at some time used the microfilm censuses and their printed indexes? Why not express your gratitude by helping to fill the jar rapidly and frequently, or by sending a check with the blank form printed below?

Remember how, not many years ago, one had to examine every page of a county census when you knew your family had lived there? And if you didn't know which county, the task of running the whole state was too formidable to undertake. Now, with statewide printed indexes, you can find your people in a fraction of the time, even if the name was misspelled in the book. We have learned to look for every possible spelling - and even some we'd have thought impossible!

Thanks to two generous souls, a couple of desired indexes have already been purchased: Tennessee 1870 and Georgia 1860. Our treasurer, Lee Kinard, reports a number of other checks have been received, aggregating well over $200.

But we are still far from our goal. Some of the forthcoming books have well-nigh astronomical price tags!

All of the approximately 1900 applications for a pension for services rendered to the Republic of Texas are preserved in the Archives Division of Texas State Library. These records, which consist of affidavits of service by the veteran and others who could swear to their validity, have been abstracted by the above members of Austin Genealogical Society. In addition to proof of military service, the files contain valuable genealogical data such as birth, death, marriage, and immigration.

An example of the valuable content and excellent format of the book:

Pryor Bryan, Liberty Co., 30 Jun 1871, approved 17 Sep 1872. Age 60. Enlisted in Capt. Fannin's company at Gonzales 8 Oct 1835 then under Capt. Briscoe until the fall of the Alamo. Boarded the steamer Cuyuga under Col. Morgan for service from Galveston in the battle of San Jacinto, but the battle was over before their arrival. He was discharged Jun 1836.

F. A. Hardin, P. S. Watts, and Jos. Richardson all knew Bryan and his children and the date of his death. Frank A. Hardin and Thomas (X) Dever affirmed his service.

Bryan died 19 Apr 1873 and left two children: John K. Bryan and Jessie L. Williams, wife of D. W. Williams. All resided in Liberty Co. and were the only heirs. While in the service, Bryan visited his old home in Louisiana.

Proven descent from one of these veterans should qualify a person for membership in the Sons or Daughters of the Republic of Texas. These hitherto almost inaccessible records will be eagerly sought by genealogists, historians, and others involved in the social sciences. Certainly no Texas library can afford to be without this book!

The book, a Sesquicentennial Project of Austin Genealogical Society, like so many others in that category, has taken longer than expected to complete. It will be released in the near future and promptly mailed to those who have placed an order. It will be on archival paper, in cloth binding, and will contain about 400 pages with surname index. Dr. David B. Gracy II has given it his stamp of approval by writing the Introduction.

The price of $40 includes postage, handling and tax. A check or money order made to AGS PUBLICATIONS must accompany each order, with the exception of those from libraries, which may be invoiced.

Gifts and Bequests to Austin Genealogical Society are tax-deductible.
