Comments

As this issue emerges from your mailbox we will find ourselves well into the year and just about to run out the millenium. The Society is moving ahead with several plans which will hopefully keep us abreast or maybe ahead of the times. We have every reason to feel that genealogy will be as popular in the twenty-first century as it certainly has been in the twentieth.

APRIL SEMINAR A SUCCESS

The AGS Seminar held Saturday, 25 April, was quite successful both informationally and financially. Mary Kegley brought a wealth of information (and more: please see Page 52) from the fine genealogical heritage of Southwestern Virginia; we were honored to have a number of fine vendors, and the noon lunch which was prepared by the excellent kitchen staff of Highland Park Baptist Church was just downright good. AGS is very thankful to Highland Park Baptist for permitting use of their meeting facilities for both our monthly meetings and the Seminar. We are most pleased with the arrangement and hope it can be a longstanding one. We are probably taking advantage of our fine president, John Miller, who is a member of Highland Park and who can hopefully keep the Society in the church’s good graces.

Enough cannot be said to thank also our Seminar chair, Kelly Barnhill, who did an amazing job of handling not only all the seminar details but also the birth of daughter Cecilia in early March. Congratulations to her and husband John for carrying out both assignments absolutely superbly.

Comments (cont'd)

While visiting with Mary Kegley we found that her daughter Susan is married to Geoff Marcy, astronomer at San Francisco State University, who with partner Paul Butler have discovered at least six planets outside the solar system. Coincidentally the July Astronomy Magazine has a very commendatory article about these two intriguing men, and the article even mentions Susan. Congratulations to Mary and the Marcys.

THIS IS JUNE MEMBERS' ISSUE

Page 55 begins this year's Members's genealogical submissions; 19 of you have done so, and the quality this year is better than ever. We thank each of the 19 who took a lot of time and effort to send their information in good time and good shape. Look it over carefully; there's a wealth of genealogy therein.

REPRINTS OF MARCH ISSUE PAGES

Your editor let his fingers do too much walking in the March issue, and the text on pages 36 through 41 was allowed to run into the masthead at the top so that the top line or two were unreadable. These pages were part of the 1850 Census series and the information is much too valuable to ignore. In the back of this issue, on pages 116-121 we reprint those pages, appropriately identified so everyone can have a complete suite of information on the Census as prepared by the late Barbara and Jerry Goudreau. Our apologies and hopes of a pardon earnestly apply.

FUTURE PLANS

We will complete the Census compilation in the September issue, finishing with Family #423, the Edward Oliver family. There will also be some closing remarks Barbara had included when she sent us the final package last year which we shall gladly and wistfully include as a fitting close to two lifetimes of devotion to this profession. We intend, as we have said, to assemble their entire work into book form in the near future and if we can it should be a veritable cornerstone of Travis County genealogy in the 1850-1860 decade. Please, all readers who have supplemental information on any families, send this to us at 4500 Hyridge Drive, Austin 78759, similarly to the material we received from Maria Costley recently (Page 114). An already excellent compilation can only be improved thereby.

The material on the Cumberland Gap in the March issue garnered several favorable comments, which encourages us to include more material on Dr. Charles Walker, his journey, and his journal sometime soon. As for Virginia, please read Peter Maxson's excerpt of his great-great-great-uncle's autobiography on Page 109 of this issue. We have also recently received some other choice genealogical matter which we will have in a near issue.

Apropos of that, any reader, member or not, is welcome to send us publishable material which we will do our best to incorporate. We ask mainly that it bear on area genealogy, ways we got here (viz Cumberland Gap) or colonial or European roots and that it meet usual publishing standards for veracity, content and size.

PHOEBE SIMPSON

We regretfully record the death of Phoebe Simpson on 15 March 1998. Phoebe and her husband George were members of Austin Genealogical Society since they moved here in 1987. Phoebe served on the Board of Directors for many years and she contributed so much in her quiet unpretentious manner.

She was born 10 April 1919 in Tulsa, OK, and graduated from Oklahoma State University in 1939. In 1944 she married then Sgt. George Simpson and following the war they moved to Hawaii where they lived for 41 years. Phoebe was a member of Mensa and was one of the first women computer programmers in Hawaii.

The Editor and the Board of Directors extend sincere sympathy to George and their family in their loss.

The following is extracted from the EDITORS' CORNER page of the National Genealogical Society Quarterly, Vol. 85, No. 4, December 1997:

Research should be exhaustive. A reliable conclusion can rarely be reached until every available and pertinent record is identified and examined. Genealogy is not a collection of names and dates. It is a study of human lives and experiences. Names and dates are only two of the identifiers we use to ensure that identities are correctly sorted, that lives are faithfully reconstructed, and that history is reliably interpreted.

Conclusions should be based on original sources of the best quality available. Yes, we begin all research projects with a literature search. The work of others can be a valuable shortcut. But the fact that someone else has published or circulated material on our subject does not relieve us of the responsibility to track the published details to their origins. That is how we verify that the information has been correctly typed, interpreted, and linked. That is how we appraise whether the creator of the information had unbiased, firsthand knowledge. That is our foundation for weighing each piece of evidence against the other, as we search for truth and reality and accuracy amid a confusing cacophony of records.

Nothing should be stated or claimed without an explicit identification of source. Common sense applies, of course. Facts that are "public knowledge" need no citation. If we write that the Civil War started in 1861, a citation would be superfluous; but an assertion that Zachariah Zumwerdt enlisted on 26 September 1861 obliges us to support the statement with reliable evidence.

Research must be objective. Romantic notions, exaggerated claims, social prejudices, and political correctness—for whatever reasons they may be indulged—are insidious corrosives that adulterate the evidence we all depend upon. They warp society's understanding of itself and thwart vital efforts to create a brighter future.

BOOK REVIEW

The McMillon-Stone Family History by Marjorie (McMillon) Sellers, 5517 Dennis Avenue, Fort Worth TX 76114-4503, was copyrighted by the author in 1997. Library of Congress Card No. 97-69421. Hard-bound, gold-embossed, 6" x 9", 287 pages, typewritten, privately printed in USA. Photographs; reproductions of Bible records and legal documents; hand-drawn migration maps; genealogical charts; 23-page index containing 2200 + names. $30 postpaid from the author, Mrs. Sellers.

The McMillon-Stone Family History includes data on connecting lines of Lindsey, Williamson, Hickson, McDaniel/McDonald [All Mc names follow Murray in the index.], Clark/Clarke, Shults, and others. Earliest known ancestors: Joseph McMillon (b. 1808 NC, m. Ann Elizabeth “Betsy” .); Stephen Stone (b. 1750 Caroline Co. VA, m. Kezziah A... ); Robert McDonald (b. 1780-90, d. 1843 Sevier Co. AR, m. Elizabeth .); Robert Clark (b. 1804 NC, wife unknown).

The Table of Contents amazingly gives the beginning page of the sketch of nearly every person in the direct line, as well as Appendices I and II; Index to maps, photos and legal documents; and the Name Index (265-287).

Readers of this thoroughly researched book should be eternally grateful to Mrs. Sellers for one seldom-seen step she took: Whenever she introduced another ancestor or current relative, she gave not only his/her parents but his/her relationship to the author, via her great-grandfather, for example. This establishes the generation of the subject and whether he/she was in Marjorie’s paternal or maternal line.

She was, however, a bit remiss about another valuable asset to the book. Beginning on page 29, various figures in parentheses started appearing in the text. Presuming they referred to footnotes, your reviewer turned to the Table of Contents to locate the footnote pages but did not find them. I was baffled until page 131 turned up, headed “References.” Similarly, References for “The Stone Line” start on page 204; for “The McDaniel/McDonald Line” on page 207; and for “The Clark Line” on page 237.

An index to Maps, Lineage Charts, and other documents appears on pp. 261-64, a very helpful feature indeed. The numbering system is rather unusual but the explanation on page 8 shows its advantages.

One editorial idiosyncrasy, not unique to this book, was rather annoying to this reviewer. The author could not decide how to treat the familial prefix “great.” It appears as “our four greats grandfather;” “my great grandfather” [which sounds rather boastful]; “my great great grandfather” [even more bragging!]; “a gg granddaughter;” “My great great-grandfather;” “grand daddy Coon;” et cetera. Then on page 143 I first noticed “My 4-greats grandfather;” soon after which a “gr gr grandson” growled at me. [Most of the experts that I have encountered advocate placing a hyphen after every “great” (spelled out) and joining each “great-” to grandfather, aunt, or whatever the relative might be. However, “stepfather” is a solid word.]

Regardless of punctuation eccentricities, this book is one of the most thoroughly researched family histories this reviewer has ever seen. She presents not only vital statistics but her source for them, as well as varying versions. She states every detail matter-of-factly, without omitting or glossing over the less praiseworthy OR exaggerating the complimentary. Consequently, the book is believable, the people are likable, and each one is “findable” in Mrs. Sellers’s fine magnum opus.

As she stated in the Preface, Mrs. Sellers did her best to “present each descendant as a real personality within the time in history that he lived, giving his/her religion, occupation, political affiliations, military service, education, property owned, places the family lived, any unusual or worthwhile accomplishments, and the cause of death.” She commented elsewhere on how important it is to know what illnesses have afflicted your family so that you can take steps to avoid them.

Marjorie Sellers is fortunate in having a husband who also is interested in genealogy and enjoys taking “sentimental journeys” with her. Her first step toward writing this fine book was a 12-week Basic Genealogy course at the Fort Worth Public Library in 1969. She soon became a member of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society.

Austin Genealogical Society thanks her for the donation of this family history, and will deposit it in the Genealogy Collection of the Texas State Library and Archives, where more people can enjoy it.

Seminar Speaker Brings Greetings from Southwestern Virginia
Mary Kegley reaffirms Austin connection between Virginia and Texas

While AGS secured Mary Kegley of Wytheville, VA as our 1998 seminar speaker for her genealogical expertise, the Society benefited in another very unique way. Wytheville (pro. with-ville) is within a few miles of Austinville, both in Wythe County, Virginia. Austinville was the home of Moses and Maria Brown Austin when one of their sons, Stephen Fuller, was born in 1793 The Austins moved to Missouri five years later and it was from Missouri that Moses Austin and his son set out on his colonization project for the northeastern province of Mexico known as Texas. All of us who grew up in Texas know full well the Austin saga and Stephen’s overwhelming contribution to Texas independence.

So Mary came armed, so to speak, with three letters of greeting to the Austin Genealogical Society from the Board of Supervisors of Wytheville, the Mayor of Wytheville, and the chairman of the Stephen F. Austin Committee in that county; they were presented and read at the Seminar. A memorial to Stephen F. Austin has recently been erected in the community, a project of which Mary and the entire area are quite proud, and rightfully so. Copies of the three letters are reproduced herein, along with two views of the memorial site. Please note the flags: U.S., Virginia, and Texas, which fly over the memorial. There are not many states whose residents are selfless enough to permit flying another state flag on their turf. We feel this is an ultimate credit to the character of the Old Dominion and its residents.

For the Austin Genealogical Society the Editor thanks Mary, the Mayor and city of Wytheville, the county of Wythe and all their fine residents for sharing with us their part of a common heritage which means so much to us all. We must all make a point of visiting Wythe County and the memorial when we journey into that fine state.

Members of the Genealogical Society:

Greeting: As Mayor of the Town of Wytheville, Virginia, I would extend greetings to the members of the Genealogical Society and the citizens of the State of Texas on behalf of the Town Board and the Town citizens. In November 1997, I had the privilege of meeting several Texas citizens during their visit to Wytheville. Their trip was to honor the "Father of Texas"—Stephen F. Austin. He is a very important link between the Town of Wytheville and the State of Texas. Austin was born in Wythe County and his life is held in high esteem for his life and accomplishments. The discovery and recognition of Austin's accomplishments can be attributed to organizations such as yours. Genealogical societies are instrumental in tracing the descent of a person or family which is important for us now and for future generations as well.

I am sure your organization will thoroughly enjoy the presentation to be made by Mr. Mary B. Kegley. Mr. Kegley is held in high regard by the County and Town residents. She is a member of the Southwest Virginia Genealogical Society, has taught genealogy, and has written, compiled, and published numerous articles and books on local history and genealogy.

I hope you have an informative and enjoyable meeting, and I would extend to you the Town of Wytheville's friendship, goodwill, and best wishes.

Very sincerely,

Mayor
INSCRIPTION ON AUSTIN MEMORIAL

STEPHEN FULLER AUSTIN, SON OF MOSES AND MARY (MARIA) BROWN AUSTIN, WAS BORN IN THIS COMMUNITY ON NOVEMBER 3, 1793. HIS FATHER AND UNCLE STEPHEN AUSTIN OPERATED THE LEAD MINES HERE FROM ABOUT 1789 TO 1798. THE FAMILY AND NUMEROUS MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY MOVED TO THE LEAD MINES IN MISSOURI WHEN STEPHEN WAS FIVE YEARS OLD. FOLLOWING HIS FATHER'S DEATH, STEPHEN BECAME A COLONIZER AND POLITICAL LEADER. FOR HIS HELP IN ASSISTING TEXAS SETTlers GAIN THEIR INDEPENDENCE, HE BECAME KNOWN AS "FATHER OF TEXAS"

I saw your file publication at the Austin History Center. I thought I'd share with you information in a book at the Austin History Center and many other libraries in Austin and Williamson County. There are no extra copies so you members would have to use the copies in the library.

It is called Swedes in Texas. It was first published in 1918 in Swedish and several years ago it was translated into English. As you may know, 10,000 Swedes came to Travis and Williamson Counties 1870 to 1910. This book has family histories of hundreds of these families. Because it was written in 1918 it helps genealogists locate family history prior to 1918.

Since some of your members may have a Swedish connection I thought I'd bring this to your attention.

Ancestor Listing Pages

This June issue of the Austin Genealogical Quarterly is primarily devoted to presentation of the genealogical and family history materials submitted by Society members, in line with a longstanding custom of the organization. The Editor heartily thanks each and every submitter who took the time and pains to prepare the material you will see in the pages ahead. Every page, every name is of genealogical significance to the person involved; that’s a given. But it also must be meaningful to countless other people, for each of us is connected via children and siblings and especially parents to an extended family which is forever immeasurable, yet forever being measured. The heart and soul of the genealogical quest is to uncover what we can of that galaxy of persons, always casting out nets of information like this because just maybe, just this once, the BIG one is waiting to be caught. May every submitter be this lucky.

The material on the next 53 pages is presented essentially as received, except for reductions of some pages so that the content can conform to our publishing standards. All names shown will be included in the annual name index in the November quarterly. Listed below are the names of the submitters, with their addresses and the inclusive pages on which their material may be found.

William & Francis Ryan of Montgomery Co, VA

I am searching for information on William and Frances Ryan who lived in Montgomery County, VA in the early 1800s. I am the 6th generation from William and Frances. The 1860 census carries Frances address as the "Lafayette and Shawsville" Post Office.

I am descended from John D Ryan who we believe was the second or third son. The 1850 census lists John D. as a constable in Montgomery County, VA., living with his Mother and two young brothers, Robert and James.

John D., with his wife Susan (Fisher) Ryan moved to Jackson County, Missouri in 1858. They arrived by Missouri river boat at Mathews Landing in eastern Jackson County.

The above court records index excerpts cover some of the more significant items. Frances was appointed Administratrix of the estate. After failing to appear in court three times the court appointed the sheriff administratrix. Finally in 1843 Joseph P Crockett was appointed guardian of William's orphan sons Robert & James.

A. Rush and Hugh Crockett were proposed as appraisers in 1833 but apparently didn't serve. The estate was finally settled in 1843. The 1840-50-60 census verifies Frances was a resident of Montgomery Co and her home was adjacent to William C's farm. These same court records show a John and William Ryan in Montgomery Co in 1784 & 1785. Could this possibly be our William Ryan's father?

I AM LOOKING FOR THE PARENTS OF DAVID PARKE.

First Generation (source: family records)

1. David PARKE. Born in NJ. Died in IN or OH. I believe he may be descended from Roger Parke of NJ.

Children:

2. i. John PARKE
3. ii. David PARKE
4. iii. Elizabeth PARKE
5. iv. Rebecca PARKE first wife
6. v. Sarah PARKE

Second Generation

2. John PARKE.
3. David PARKE.
4. Elizabeth PARKE.

She may have married Robert CAMPBELL, 11 Oct 1821 in Butler County, OH.

The Oxford Cemetery is located on the extreme west edge to the north of Clinton Co. IN. Road 700 N runs into Rd 200S of Tippecanoe Co. Turn North off this road onto the East County Line Road of Tippecanoe Co. Road sign reads Oxford Reformed Luthern Church Built A.D. 1871. Stone in cemetery says "Come ye Blessed Rebecka Rogers Died Feb 1837 Aged 28 years." Beside Rebecka's stone is a monument for John Parke, Mar 12, 1792, Jan 25, 1848 and also Elizabeth his wife Mar. 27, 1798, Jan 18, 1889. John might be Rebecka's brother. There are numerous other Parkes also buried there. Even though there is a 5 year difference between the grave marker and family records in how old Rebecka was when she died, I believe this grave to be that of my great, great grandmother and the first wife of Elisha Curtis Rogers, my great, great grandfather.

She married Elisha Curtis ROGERS (first wife) son of Robert ROGERS & Rebeckah of Middlesex Co. NJ, 12 Nov 1825 in Butler County, OH. Born 25 Dec 1801 in Middlesex Co, NJ. Died 23 Oct 1857 in Clinton Co., IN. Buried in Dayton, IN Cemetery. They had the following children:

9. iii. Jane ROGERS
10. iv. Robert Campbell ROGERS
11. v. David ROGERS
12. vi. Joseph ROGERS
13. vii. Rebecca ROGERS

She married Clayton SALE. Born in KY. Religion United Brethern.

Third Generation

7. Elearner (Elonar) ROGERS. Born 24 Feb 1826 in OH. Died 1907.

She married James RAMSEY, 8 Nov 1843.

8. Harriet ROGERS. Born 7 Aug 1827 in OH. Died 10 Jan 1868 in IN.

She married Nathan GLICK, 28 Jun 1849.

11. David ROGERS. Born 12 May 1833 in Clinton Co. IN. Died 1858.

12. Joseph ROGERS. Born 2 Oct 1835 in Clinton Co. IN. Died 1900 in IA.

He married Louisa FLEMING, 26 Jul 1860.

13. Rebecca ROGERS. Born 11 Dec 1837 in Clinton County, IN. Died Mar 1886.

I AM LOOKING FOR THE PARENTS OF JACOB FUNK.

First Generation

To find the Newcomer school, church and cemetery: go West one and a half miles on Newcastle Road from the Clinton-Tippecanoe county line past the Lewis Eberhart land. When you get to 1000 East turn right and go to 700 South. The church and school are at the intersection. Make a jog to left, then right and on to Newcomer cemetery. It is hidden from the road by trees and bushes.

Jacob Funk's obituary: "Jacob Funk died March 20th, 1880 aged 74 years, 2 months, and 2 days. He retired to rest at his usual bed time with as good health as he had enjoyed for some time past; but about two o'clock in the morning he was found by his family in the struggles of death. Thus another one of earth's millions passed away with but a moment's warning. He was born in Pennsylvania. When but a child he was removed with his father's family to Ohio, where he grew up to manhood. He was joined in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Charles November 4th, 1832, with whom he emigrated to Tippecanoe County, Indiana, in 1834 where he remained until death. He was one of the pioneers of that county, and, as such, was a father and counselor in the community in which he lived. He was loved and esteemed by many, and his hand and heart were always opened to the sick and needy. He will live in the hearts of many for years to come. He made no open profession of faith in Christ; yet, as a church, we have lost a friend. He was always in his place in the sanctuary when health would permit. He loved to talk about religion and the Savior, and had every mark of a true Christian except a public confession of Christ. We have a very fine brick church-house in the community in which he lived, as a monument of his liberality. His house was the home of the itinerant. Many of the preachers of St. Joseph Conference shared his hospitality. Peace to his ashes. He leaves an aged companion, eight children, nineteen grand children, and a large circle of friends to mourn. 'In an hour that ye think not, the bridegroom cometh.' Jesus emphatically says, 'Ye must be born again.' May the Lord lead his companion and children to give their hearts and lives to the Lord Jesus, so they have the strong Arm to sustain them in their hours of grief and sorrow.--S. W. Sickapoose."

He married Sarah Harner first wife, daughter of John HARNER & Sarah KOOGLER, 18 May 1828 in Greene Co., OH. Born 20 Apr 1812. Died 12 Sept 1829. Buried in Rockafield Cemetery near Fairfield, Greene Co., OH. They had the following child:

Letter written from Kodiak, Alaska on August 26, 1943 by Chaplain (Captain) Charles Max Buck (1903-1989) to his parents Charles and Freda Buck detailing his trip from Anchorage to McKinley Park. Max's father had been a railroad man all his life. Edited by his daughter Juanita Dodgen-- 30 Casa Verde-Austin, Tx 78734-- nDodgen@aol.com.

I arrived in Anchorage too late to catch the train taking the "vacationers" to the park. It goes up only once a week. The only other train was a freight train that would leave the next morning. I decided to ride the freight. I had to rush around to get my ticket. The next morning I went to the Yard Office and caught my train-just as it was pulling away. I introduced myself to the conductor. He is the oldest conductor-in fact the oldest employee of the Alaska Railroad. He laid all the rail on the division. His name is George Jenkins. He is a fine old man. He was a Spanish American War veteran and a World War Veteran. He was one of the first to come to Alaska to build this railroad. A great deal has been written about this railroad and all of it is true. It's a honey-Just like a "spur" off of one of the main lines. The road bed is bumpy and the tracks crooked-but not another railroad in the world has as many natural handicaps to overcome as this road has-Mountains, rivers, tundra, glaciers, rock slides, snow slides etc. etc. It is only 480 miles long but every mile has its hazards!

Mr. Jenkins knew many men on the Chicago North Western. He asked me to ask "Dad" if he knew an Arthur Sessions who was a Dispatcher and Agent once on the CNW--Well, as we went along on our trip Mr. Jenkins introduced me to many of the Railroad Men. He took me right in when he found Dad was an old rail! I met H. H. McCutcheon who was the first foreman on the Alaska Railroad who is now retired and is one of the Senators from Alaska now. He showed me his old switch key-No. 2. The second issued by the road. He introduced me to a Neal A. Browne who is agent at "Wasella." Browne said he worked with you Dad from 1909-11. He lived in Mankato and ran from there to Winona and west to Tracey. He wanted me to ask you if you know Al Schmeltz. If so and if he is still working on the CNW, he wanted you to give him his "best regards." On the trip I ate with the crew. I met the new crew at Curry Hotel at supper time and the engineer--La Rue--asked me to ride "up front" in the engine the rest of the journey. I told him I did not have any old clothes to ride in the dirt and so he took me over to the bunk house and outfitted me in G. I. (Government Issue) overalls and an old cap. I put my other clothes in my luggage--threw it into the caboose and then climbed into the engine and what a thrill I had the rest of the way! high bridges, sharp curves, steep grades, high ledges--rotten piling in bridges, soft places in road bed--rock slides--high water--etc. etc. In one place a water tower had fallen over and was tipped just right to roll down on the tracks any time--given a strong wind. I did have a lot of fun. I ate with the crew and was one of them all the way.

When we arrived at McKinley Hotel-the train was "tied up" due to a break in the track in the canyon just ahead. The track there is built on a "Glacier" and every year when it gets warm the glacier moves and then they cannot keep the track in. I wish "Dad" could see that cut and the great layer of ice on which the track has rested these 30 years! Well the crew had no lunch and I called the Hotel and asked if they would feed them. They said look at me--all dirt and grease. That is almost a $2,000,000 hotel and we walked right in the front door. They said, "Are you Chaplain Buck?" I said, "Yes indeed." They almost fell over--especially when I insisted on eating with the crew! (Well I had been 30 hours on the way without a wink of sleep so I took a good hot shower and went to bed in a real bed with inner spring mattress. Boy! was it ever nice.) I slept until 3PM- then went for a Hike.

On Sunday I held two services--one in the morning and one in the evening. Then on Monday I started on a two day trip to Wonder lake at the foot of Mt. McKinley. It was 90 miles from the Hotel. We went by truck. I stopped at the Ranger Station and I borrowed a fine pair of "field glasses." I am glad I did for it made our journey so much more interesting and exciting. The first thing we saw was a cow moose and her calf.
A little farther on we saw an old mother Grizzly Bear with three cubs. The cubs were last years cubs and were about as big as shetland ponies. They were eating blueberries.
Whenever we wanted to stop the driver, we would pound on the top of the truck cab--we were riding in the open truck. Soon we saw a Black porcupine waddling down the middle of the road. We came to an open field and there were 22 Mountain sheep grazing there!
We spent a long time watching them and took pictures. Then we came to Polychrome Pass. A very beautiful place! Suddenly I saw a lone mountain goat. We stopped the truck and sneaked along the ridge until we were just a few yards away from him. Then we watched him go down into the valley--jumping from rock to rock. The road at this point was built on the face of a cliff more than 200 ft above the valley!! We noticed some "Marmot" or rock squirrel about the size of rabbits. We continued our journey and the next thing we saw were two large Caribou! One had beautiful horns.

We then left the game country and so we watched the mountains--hoping the clouds would lift and reveal Mt. McKinley which is 20,300 ft high. I cannot begin to tell you how beautiful the mountains are--but we did not see Mt. McKinley on our trip to the camp.
When we got to the camp we grabbed our fishing equipment and went fishing! I caught a "Greyling"--the first I have ever caught. The Colonel caught seven or eight--but he had flies and I had a spinner. We went home about 7:30. When we came up out of the Valley-- we stopped the car for there before us in all its beauty was Mt. McKinley. The clouds lifted to reveal it to us. It was a sight I shall never forget. Majestic--Superb--lovely! Very few times in a year do the clouds leave Mt. McKinley and we were lucky--It stood out clear in the evening sunlight--covered with lily white snow! I ran and got my camera and walked to the lake and took a picture of it! I hope it is good! I went then and fried the fish and cooked supper for the crowd--helped clean up and went to bed in my "sleeping Bag."

The next day I wanted to Pan some gold. So the others wanted to pan gold too. There was a gold mine in the valley--a Yugoslavian lived there--has been there 24 years. First he had to treat the boys to Home Brew when I would not drink his beer he found me some "rock candy." Then we went to his mine and panned some gold. (I sent a few colors (grains of gold) in a little cellophane sack to Phyllis.) We then returned to the hotel. On the way back we saw some beautiful Caribou and the Grizzly Bear and cubs. The next day we returned to Anchorage- I waited patiently for a plane and finally got back here.

*Letter from Leona Bair Renney, relaying information on five additional children (other than Jacob; John, Jr; Abraham and Samuel) through Orphan's Court records after their father's death; Samuel, being a minor, also was "orphaned." Cher Bibler and Connie Petersen, first two editors of "The Bear Family Newsletter" did the original research in this matter. Baer and Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, first Sunday School and 50 year observance; apparently never married; among other references. DAR application of Velma E. Marine; Louis Henry Dielman, Ed.: Ratboro, PA, 1915, appendix p. 207: "Michael of John, Private in Captain Steinier's Frederick Artillery;" p. 346, Kieffer. Cher Bibler, in "The Bear Newsletter," Vol. 1, No. 1, 9 January 1979, the article "History of the Bare Reunion," pp 1 & 2, quotes from Foust & Augustine, describing the four brothers mentioned above (wrongly placing John as eldest), born in Rockingham County, Virginia, having come in the early 1820s first to Fairfield County, Ohio, then to Seneca and Wyandot Counties, where they were early settlers. Names of their children are given in the cited arti- cle; however, some have been omitted (such as Jacob's son John, who seems to have been confused then and in subsequent writings, with John, Jr [240B.6]). While Jacob's son John went to Iowa, there is nothing to show that Jacob's brother John did. Indeed, the children of the elder John and his wife Catherine married, died, and were buried in Ohio, which strongly suggests that they did also. Some of the other children in the Foust-Augustine excerpt are not listed elsewhere; some are disproved, as explained elsewhere in this book. Incidentally, a fifth son, Michael, also went to Ohio later, where he and Charlotte reared a family. See Family Group Sheet #240.4, Jacob and Sophia Baer Keefer, for excerpt of will of her paternal grandfather, Georg Bar/George Baer (the codical) in which Sophia is named as an heir.

10 April 1997: Marc V. Archer, P.O. Box 716, Linden, Michigan 48451, phone (810)266-6342 called regarding Beaver-Bair connections (on referral from Mildred Shaul Rudisill; earlier, Lois Craig). He is descended from Peter Be(a/e)ver, who he believes to have been another child of Mathias Beaver/Beever/Beiber and Mary Magdalena Eavy/Eaby Beaver, and therefore a brother of Sarah (See #120). He also believes that Catherine Beever/Beaver, who married John, Jr., was a daughter of Peter Beaver, and that the marriage of Sarah/Susanna which took place on the same date and same county as that of Jacob and Sarah was more than coincidence. He believes that John Beaver was a brother of Sarah. He bases these conclusions on US Census information and other sources.
Texas Family Lines

Primary Surnames: McCALL, McDONALD, RANKIN, HENLEY

The Texas branch of the JOHN G. McCALL family came to Texas c. 1870 from Conecuh and Monroe Counties, Alabama. John G. McCall was born c. 1808 in either North or South Carolina. He married Martha sometime before 1838. She was born c. 1813 in Alabama. Nothing is known about John's parents and Martha's maiden name. Children of JOHN G. McCALL (c. 1808-?) and MARTHA (? (1813-1901) are: Caroline (1838-?), James M (1839-1918), Nancy Jane (1842-1904), Martha Ann (1847-1916), William Filmore (1851-1891), John W. (1853-?), Andrew (1857-?) and Fannie (1860-1917). There is no additional information on Caroline born c. 1838 and Andrew c. 1857 both born in Alabama. James M. McCall (1839-1918) married Sarah Duty Wright in Arkansas c. 1866. James and Sarah lived in Little River Co, Arkansas (my husband's direct line). James & Sarah McCall traveled to Arizona and California with families of the Wrights and Hunters around 1870. John G. McCall was last found in Monroe Co, AL in the 1866 state census; could he and his family have traveled to Arizona and California with these other families? Wife Martha and daughter Jane are found in 1900 in Archer Co, TX with daughter Fannie and family.

Martha Ann McCALL and RANKIN/BAGGET/COTHRA in Hill Co, Texas

Martha Ann McCALL was born 3 November 1847 in Mississippi and died 6 May 1916 in Hill Co, TX. She married Duncan A. RANKIN 28 Nov 1876 in Hill Co, TX. RANKIN was born 12 April 1841 in Alabama and died 8 January 1913 in Hill Co, TX. His parents are Duncan R. RANKIN and Nancy BAGGET. His siblings are Sarah Jane, James E., Robert, Daniel, Isabella, Flora A. and Charles F. His paternal grandparents, Duncan RANKIN and Jannet? migrated from Scotland c. 1800 to North or South Carolina.

Martha Ann McCALL and Duncan A. RANKIN are buried in Brandon Cemetery, Hill Co, TX. Duncan served in the CSA Co. C 5 Alabama Infantry, Rhoades Brigade; he is in a photograph of the First Meeting of Confederate Veterans in Hill Co, TX (Hill Co, TX Trilogy) by Col Harold B. Simpson, 1986 - holdings of Hillsboro City (TX) Library. Dunk A. RANKIN is listed as an Old Settler of Bynum, Hill Co for 1874. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge #720 of Brandon, Hill Co, TX. Children of Duncan A. RANKIN and Martha Ann MCCALL are: John D (1877-1935) married to Moisissie D. Cothran, James C (1880-1950) married to Mary B. ?, Willie 1882-1934, Charles (Carley) D. 1884-1940 married to Jennie ?, Flora 1887-1945, and Hugh 1888-1939.

McCALL, William Filmore with
DUBOIS/SHEPHERD/SHERARD/YARBROUGH/HARVEY in Kaufman & Leon Co, TX

William Filmore McCALL was born c. 1851 in Alabama and died 22 February 1891 in Kaufman Co, TX. He is listed on the tax roll of 1891 for Crandall, Kaufman Co, TX. He left a wife, Mattie Amelia DUBOIS born c. 1865 and 5 children. The widow Mattie McCall married K.M. (Kenny) SHEPHERD (SHERARD) (1842-1921) on 10 December 1893 in Leon Co, TX. Children of William F. McCALL and Mattie DuBOIS are Maud born 1881, married to E.R. YARBROUGH in Leon Co, 1907, Lela born 1883 married Charley Harvey in Leon Co 1903, Jimmie (female) born 1885, Edgar born 1888 and Jewell Belle born 1891 in Kaufman Co, TX.

McCALL, JOHN W. in Young & Archer Co, TX

John W. McCALL was born in October 1853 in Alabama. He married Lula M. ? circa 1884 (no marriage record found). Lula was born in Texas April 1866. Their known children are Jessie F., born April 1885, Ethel born Sept 1886 and Annie M. born 1888, all in Texas. John W. McCall and his sister Nancy Jane lived with their sister Martha Ann and Duncan A. Rankin in Hill Co, TX in 1880. According to tax records, he is in Archer Co, TX 1890-1895 and Young Co, TX from 1896 including being listed on the 1900 census with the above wife and children.

Mary Frances (Fannie) McCALL and MCDONALD/FAULKNER/MATTHEWS/AUSTIN/LASATER in Archer Co, TX

Mary Frances (Fannie) McCALL was born in Monroe Co, Alabama May 1860 and died 10 Oct 1917 in Archer Co, TX. She married Edward Armour MCDONALD (1857-1927), possibly in Hill Co, TX c. 1889 (no marriage record found). They are buried in Lake Creek Cemetery, Archer Co, TX along with Fannie’s unmarried sister, Nancy Jane (1842-1904) and their mother Martha ? McCall (1813/1817-1901). Father, John G. McCall’s date and place of death are unknown.

Children of Fannie McCall and Edward McDonald are: Mattie (1883) married to GD Faulkner 1910, Joel A (1884-1964) married Eula Maud MATTHEWS 1906, William (1887), James A. (1889)(a Methodist minister) married to Estelle AUSTIN, Myrtle (1891) married to John LASATER, Walter Ed (1893-1964), Nellie (1895), Sarah Catherine (Sallie) (1898) and Peter, born May 1900.

HENLEY/HENDLEY/WORKS/FUTCH in Texas

The two HENLEY lines in Texas are James Lee and William D HENLEY sons of Francis Marion (Frank) HENLEY/HENDLEY and Sarah Caroline ? of 1st Chickasaw and later Calhoun Counties Mississippi. James L. and his twin Andrew were born 17 November 1882. Andrew died shortly after 1900 in MS. James HENLEY’S brother William D (?David) HENLEY, born c. 1868 in either MS or TN, is listed on the 1910 census in Texarkana, Bowie Co, TX down the street from James and wife Ibbie B. LEE. He is married to Bell (married c. 1909). He has 5 children listed all born in Texas, evidently from a previous marriage. They are Edward D. (1893), Middie L (1895) (may have married WORKS), William D (1898), Ethel W. (1902), Earnest P (1905). Bell has a daughter listed named Maggie M. FUTCH, born 1906 in Texas. Bell was born in MS.

William D., Bell, Ernest P. and Margaret M. (?Futch) are in Tarrant Co in 1920 living on the Ft Worth/Dallas Pike Road. William D. died 19 March 1922 and is buried in Arlington (TX) Cemetery, Tarrant Co, TX. In the 1920 census there is a William D. Henley, born c. 1899 living in a boarding house owned by Charles McDonald on E. Bluff St in Fort Worth, Tarrant Co, TX; he may be the son listed on the 1910 census.

I am searching for anyone who connects to any of these families. Please contact:

Sicilian/Texas Family Lines

Primary Surnames: MANISCALCO, ALFANO, MARTINO, SCACCIA, LORIA

All of my immigrant ancestors arrived in the United States between 1891 - 1912 from two villages in Sicily - Poggioreale, Trapani Province, and Alia, Palermo Province. Most of these families settled in Texas - primarily Houston, one eventually moving to New Orleans; one sibling went to Charleroi, PA and one to Baton Rouge, LA.

Paternal Lines: MANISCALCO, MESSINA, APPICELLA, CULMONE, MONTALBANO, WEIDO (GUIDA)

Pietro MANISCALCO and Maria Grazia MESSINA arrived in the U.S. in 1908 & 1909, respectively from Poggioreale, Sicily. Pietro was born in 1879 to Calogero MANISCALCO and Antonina APICELLA. His siblings died before adult age. He was sponsored to the U.S. by his father's brother, Antonio (Tony) MANISCALCO and his wife Elizabeth CANGEMI, who had immigrated in the mid 1880's to 1890's with their adult children. They all settled in the Westheimer area of Harris Co, TX. Calogero and Antonio MANISCALCO had at least one other sibling, Angelo (b.1850) of whom nothing more is known. Their parents were Pietro MANISCALCO and Antonina STRADA.

Maria Grazia MESSINA was born in 1883 to Giacomo MESSINA and Rosalia CULMONE. Two of Maria's three sisters and their husbands, Angelina MESSINA and Sylvester MONTALBANO and Antonia MESSINA and Simone (Sam) GUIDA (became WEIDO) came to the U.S. about 1912. They also settled in the Westheimer area. Maria Grazia and her 2 year old daughter Anonina (Lena) were detained for two weeks at Ellis Island until someone was able to go there to accompany her to Houston. Most of the descendants of these families settled in Houston; some of the WEIDO/GUIDA families went to Bryan, Brazos Co, TX. Nothing more is known about Giacomo MESSINA but Rosalia CULMONE had several siblings, some of whom may have traveled to the U.S.

Children of Maria Grazia MESSINA and Peter MANISCALCO are: Antonia (Lena) married 1st to PALERMO, 2nd to CICCIARELLA, Carlo (Sam) married 1st to GILLESPIE, Rosalie married 1st to JOHNSON, 2nd to RITTER, Jackie (Angelina) married to HUGHES, Domenica (Mamie) married to NIEHOUSE, Josephine married to SOCKWELL, Mary Grace (Grace) married 1st to GUYON, 2nd to WEST, ANN married to McGARY and Peter, Jr. my father, married to Lily Mae ALFANO, my mother.

Maternal Lines: ALFANO, LORIA, MARTINO, SCACCIA, MARCHIAFAVA, MORTELLARO

Tommaso ALFANO and Antonina (Lena) LORIA were born and married in Poggioreale, Sicily and immigrated to New Orleans in 1891. They moved back and forth between Hearne, Robertson Co, TX and south Louisiana working in the cotton and sugar cane fields. They eventually settled in New Orleans with most of their children. Tomasso ALFANO had many siblings, a few who came to the U.S. One niece married CALAMIA and settled in Long Island, New York. The LORIA and VARISCO families of Lena LORIA are scattered from Bryan to Houston to Dallas. Children of Tommaso ALFANO and Lena LORIA who settled in New Orleans are Lawrence married to Adeline CORTE, from Hearne, Anthony married to LINDEN, Joe married to CULMONE, Antonina (Lena) married MUSSO, Angelina Married To McGittigan. The oldest daughter, FRANCES married VIVIANO from Hearne and eventually moved to Houston. My grandfather, Frank ALFANO, married Rosalia (Lillie) MARTINO and moved from New Orleans to Houston.

Rosalia (Lillie) MARTINO was born to Michele (Mike) MARTINO and Maria Grazia SCACCIA in 1904 in Alia Sicily during a return trip. They had originally come over to the U.S. in 1897 & 1898, respectively, with two sons Matteo John and Frank. Daughter Domenica (Mamie) was born c. 1900, before they returned to Sicily, but where the family lived during this time is unknown. They may have been with Michele MARTINO's cousins, Rosolino MARTINO and Salvatrice (Sammy) MICELI who eventually settled in San Antonio or in Louisiana with Maria's sister Anna SCACCIA and her husband Rosolino MARCHIAFAVA, who eventually settled in Baton Rouge, LA.

When they returned to the U.S. in 1904 & 1905, Michele (Mike) MARTINO and Maria Grazia SCACCIA settled in Charleroi, PA where Maria's brother Rosolino SCACCIA family was living. Michele MARTINO and Maria Grazia MARTINO moved to Houston, TX around 1913 and Michele died in 1914. Maria Grazia and her children moved to Highbank, Falls Co, TX after marrying Baldassare (Billie) CATALANO. After he died in 1921, she and her children moved back to Houston and lived near MORTELLARO cousins.

Frank ALFANO and Rosalia (Lillie) MARTINO had only one child - my mother, Lena (Lily) Mae. She married my father, Peter MANISCALCO, Jr in 1946.

I would like to correspond and share information with anyone related to any of these lines and anyone who has family from POGGIOREALE OR ALIA SICILY.

NOTE: The Federal law authorizing the 1880 US Census also provided for the States and Territories to take a "semi-decennial" census. Since they were to be only partly reimbursed for this extra census, only FLORIDA, NEBRASKA, and COLORADO, and the territories of NEW MEXICO and DAKOTA chose to take a census in 1885. The records retained by the States included Population, Agriculture, Manufactures, and Mortality schedules, grouped within each county by Township.

ANCESTRAL LINES of JOHN CHARLES RANDOLPH TAYLOR V

I journey to the Genealogy Section of the Texas State Library every month or two for casual research. I'm proud of my own pedigree. Every ancestor I've found in 35 years of looking arrived in the present United States before the American Revolution, and some were quite accomplished. John Maxson was the first Caucasian child born on Rhode Island, and scores of other forbears settled in New England in the 1630s. Nonetheless, it takes a bit of ferreting out to find anything new.

In contrast, the ancestors of my Significant Other of 23 years are always right at the surface. With no effort, I bring home a sheaf of xeroxes with new information on this line or that of his. Most friends and associates know him by the unassuming name of Jack Taylor. But his factual name is John Charles Randolph Taylor V.

While Jack holds a graduate history degree from the University of Virginia, he has only a passing interest in genealogy, and I enjoy his forbears perhaps more than he does. It's a glorious pedigree: one U.S. president, the first U.S. Supreme Court Justice, the first U.S. Attorney General, two U.S. Senators, at least four Governors of Virginia (one royal, three state) and Princess Pocahontas. Other observations:

- Virtually all forbears lived in Virginia or over the North Carolina border. I'd found two remote lines of New York & New Jersey forbears, but no true New England Yankees until a cousin's note from the 1920s led me to a decent from the Virginia grandson of William Brewster of Mayflower fame.

- Nearly all ancestors were British, and most of those English with only the occasional Welshman or Scot. There is one c. 1800 French immigrant sea captain named Hubert Farant (otherwise Uber Faranque), who, along with the Powhatan Indians, provide arguably the only genealogical spice.

- Cousin/kinsman marriages were very common. Jack descends five times over from the original William Randolph of Turkey Island and six from Miles Cary of Windmill Point, both founders of Virginia dynasties.

While the most illustrious ties are remote and family finances have never been the same since the Civil War, tangible reminders of the recent and distant past remain. Jack's mother still lives in the house in Norfolk's West Ghent historic district that her parents acquired when she was an infant, and her country place is on a fragment of her Leigh ancestors' Lands End plantation on Albemarle Sound in North Carolina. Jack's sister Randolph Lougee is immediate past president of the Monticello Association: Mr. Jefferson's direct descendants still own the family cemetery at his mountaintop home, and Jack's bones will lie there some day. (Each May, the family gathers for a party at Monticello, and the following morning reconvenes for a ceremony at the graveyard.) And once I was with Jack's family in Williamsburg, and after a living history reenactment at the Virginia state house, we talked to young actor portraying statesman Edmund Randolph. Introducing him to Mr. Taylor, I said, "Governor, meet your great-great-great-great-grandson."

1 He served in the Revolutionary War in the Southampton County militia.
2 Some sources suggest Sarah Williamson Ruffin, evidently the 2nd Mrs. Taylor, was mother of Bennett.
3 Edmund Randolph was Governor of Virginia, 1st US. Attorney General and Secretary of State.
4 Her brother, Gov. Wilson Cary Nicholas, was father of Mrs. Jane Nicholas Randolph.
5 Col. T. Jefferson Randolph (1792-1875) was eldest son of Gov. Thomas Mann Randolph, II and his wife Martha Jefferson (1772-1836), eldest dau. of Mr. Thomas Jefferson. Four generations of Taylors are buried at Monticello.
6 Colston was a son of Chief Justice John Marshall’s sister Elizabeth Marshall Colston.
7 The 1818 home of her uncle Dr. John Brockenborough in Richmond became the White House of the Confederacy. Her maternal grandfather was Carter Braxton, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence from Virginia.
8 He was named for his grandfather and uncle J.C.R. Taylor (II) (1857-1863).

10 His brother was U.S. Sen. Benjamin Watkins Leigh (1781-1849).
11 Rebecca Watkins and William Leigh were cousins through both the Watkins and Cary families. See Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly, Vol. XXXII, No. 2 (June 1991), p.48.
12 His brother William Leigh unsuccessfully claimed Stoneleigh Abbey, Warwickshire and other estates in England as rightful heir to the 5th & last Baron Leigh (of the 1st creation).
14 Farant may well be the only one of John Taylor's ancestors who arrived after the Revolutionary War.
15 He was said to be a descendant of Sir John Jenkins, colonial Governor of Virginia.
16 While there are few generations of Farants, they were long: Mary Farant Ferebee's direct male ancestors averaged age 46.6 at the birth of the next in line. George Farant was born posthumously.

\textsuperscript{17} An early Norfolk County surveyor, he laid out the original city of Norfolk in 1680. An early spelling of the surname was fferebe.

\textsuperscript{18} A lieutenant in the 1st Regiment of the N.C. Continental Line, he is represented in the Society of the Cincinnati by Capt. William Stamps Howard, III of Fairfax, Va.

\textsuperscript{19} Her father was Edward Augustus Leigh of Lands End, Durrants Neck, Perquimans County, N.C. Mrs. Watson Winslow's \textit{History of Perquimans County} (1931) identifies the American founder as a 1632 Virginia settler, Col. William Leigh of West Point, King William County, Va., who would presumably also take the Leigs of Halifax County further back. Both lines await further documentation.

\textsuperscript{20} His brother Samuel Harrell Ferebee was father Jean Vaughan Ferebee Reynolds (Mrs. Wm. S. Jr.) of Dallas and grandfather of David Hargrove Reynolds of Commons Ford, Travis County, Texas.

June 3rd, 1864

Mrs. Elizabeth Dalton

Dear Madam,

I undertake to announce to you the mournful, and to you I know, the heart-rending intelligence of the death of your brave and gallant husband (C. B. Dalton, Co. A, 12 GA(?)
Bat.) who was wounded in an engagement near here yesterday evening and died at this place about 6 minutes ago. A minnie ball passed through his bowels from side to side. He did not appear to suffer much - at least he gave no expression of pain. His mind was clear and he was talking (but little) three minutes before his soul took its flight which I trust it passed immediately into Heaven. I asked him if he had any messages for his family. He replied he “would like to see you all and that he hoped he could soon be able to get home”. I think I asked him in the event he should not, if he desired to send any messages or instructions about his worldly affairs. He replied, “he wanted his family to do the best they could”. He drank about half a cupful of coffee about 20 minutes ago and seemed to relish it very much. Nothing that kind hands could minister to his wound or condition was withheld from him. I should have his body decently interred near the railroad on this farm so you can find it hereafter, should you desire to remove it to your family burying ground. Trusting you will receive and be able to bear up under this sad dispensation of Providence with Christian resignation I am, Madam, your unknown but sympathetic friend and able servant.

In. E. Clagete
Sarg. In Charge

A. B. His effects were some clothing of but little value, toothbrush, comb and cup. No money of any kind. I enclose you some letters and a map I took out of his knapsack. If I can get transportation, I will send his knapsack to Second Auditor of Treasury at Richmond.

I.S.C.

Letter to wife of Charles B. Dalton, g-g uncle of Carolyn Spearman Miller, killed in Civil War, 3 June, 1864.

HISTORIC COVERLETS

Is there some special county or town where your family stayed several generations? An old place you fondly think of as the original family home in America? Well, there is a good chance that that historic area has had a coverlet made which pictures memorable buildings or scenes of long ago.

For me, that shrine is King & Queen County, Virginia. I have subscribed to The Bulletin of the King & Queen County Historical Society of Virginia ever since I visited the place thirty-odd years ago. That's how I learned of the Society's project: to have coverlets made that look hand woven and depict eight historic places plus the county coat of arms. I think it is perfectly charming!

It is available in Williamsburg blue or cranberry red for $50 (postpaid). It covers the top of a double bed and has fringe all around.

If you would like to find out if your "hallow'd spot" has been so immortalized, you might call your local Chamber of Commerce and ask for the address of the Chamber in your special county. Then you could write and ask if such a coverlet is available, and where. Ask that Chamber to give you the address of the nearest historical or genealogical society, then direct your queries to them, if the Chamber of Commerce has not heard of such a project.

As a last resort, you might write to the county clerk. Such mailing addresses are given in The Handybook for Genealogists, 8th edition, beginning on page 7 for Alabama. Addresses for pertinent archives, libraries, and societies precede each state's section. This edition was copyrighted in 1991; your local genealogical library may have a newer edition. Don't forget to enclose a long self-addressed, stamped envelope (SASE) with every request.

To give you an idea of the kind of structures you might find on a historic coverlet, mine depicts:

1. "The Old Mill"
2. "Bellevue c. 1700"
3. "Newtown Store"
4. "The Court House 1866" [It had burned twice.]
5. "The County Coat of Arms" featuring a dragon rampant facing a bull in like position, with motto Pro Deo et Patria 1691 [Patria then being England.] "A bull, the household symbol of the dukes of York, forms the left border of the coat of arms to represent the York River, a natural western boundary of King & Queen County. A dragon forms the right border to represent that the Dragon Run is the natural eastern boundary of the county." [Bear in mind that in heraldry, right and left are from the viewpoint of the bearer of the shield.]
6. "Old Clerk's Office"
(7) "Mattaponi Church, 1732" [Named for the river which took its name from an Indian tribe, it was built by a Church of England congregation but became Baptist some years after the Disestablishment in 1779.]

(8) "The Jail"

(9) "First Mt. Olive Baptist Church 1868"

My Williamsburg blue treasure (which reposes on a creamy-white full bedspread) is precious to me because it depicts my Harwood ancestors' church, the Old Clerk's Office (occupied for 76 years by two generations of my Pollard collateral relatives), and the County Jail.

And thereby hangs a tale. Christopher Harwood (my great-great-great-grandfather) was not one of the landed gentry -- he was an inn-keeper, highly respected for his conduct and as a veteran of the American Revolution. He married Margaret, daughter of the wealthy Col. Thomas Roane.

Colonel Roane had willed a plantation named Newington to his youngest son, John, who had married the daughter of the ferrymaster, "a lovely girl, but socially beneath him," a local historian wrote. The cause is unknown, but "in a drunken frenzy, John slit her throat one night."

Brooding in the jail while waiting to be hanged, John Roane prevailed on his sister's son, young Archibald Roane Harwood, to bring him a lethal dose of laudanum. Family pride can endure the shock of a suicide more easily than the stigma of a gallows-bird!

In return, John Roane gave his nephew Archibald Harwood the plantation Newington which, over time, came to represent the promised land to our branch of Harwoods living in Texas. The children who were going to school in Virginia were escorted there by the whole family and enjoyed several weeks of vacation and orientation on the plantation before classes started, as well as Christmas vacations. It became family tradition to take new wives there to be introduced and lovingly accepted by those who were privileged to reside in the Old Dominion. Unfortunately, the house burned early in the 20th century.

The last of the line was a childless widower who willed the place to his nephew and niece, my grandfather and his sister, but their roots in Texas were too deep by that time to allow them to return to the Elysian Fields of their childhood memory, so they sold it to cousins who had never left King & Queen County. A generation later the property was sold to a lumbering firm which denuded it of its timber.

So that's why I became sentimental about a jail -- Shangri La itself no longer exists! But I have many lovely letters that were written there.

From Virginia to Missouri, 1830

Selections from the 1888 autobiography of Abram Carter Goodrich, brother of Robert Gideon Goodrich and uncle of Hugh Gideon Goodrich.
Copy of manuscript on file Nell Goodrich DeGolyer Papers, S.M.U.

I understood in early life that Thomas Goodrich and his son Edward came up from Caroline County, Virginia, to the Blue Ridge valley of Amherst County (same State) about the close of the year 1732 and settled in a beautiful cove of the Tobacco Row mountains, the most southern of those outlying ranges [that form] the celebrated chain of Blue [Ridge] mountains which can be seen from lower Virginia and from North Carolina, at so great a distance that the vast amount of intervening atmosphere causes the blueness from which they derive their name. These mountains and vales constitute what has been called “The Piedmont” of America, and if a better watered or more salubrious region can be found in the new world, I have not heard of it. In a lovely vale on the north side of the above southern mountain and immediately under the brow, so to speak, Edward Goodrich made his lifetime home. His was a home indeed, of peace and plenty and of unsophisticated Christian contentment and joy. A beautiful creek or brook ran in ten feet of his four room mansion comes babbling from his own mountainside where orchards crowned the summit of his hills and stretched down the vale on the southern side of the ever running brook. This Edward was my Father’s Father. His wife was Miss Frankie [or Frances] Pearce of Caroline County. They had living children: Thomas, John B., Edmund, Gideon [A.C. Goodrich’s father], Phebe, Mary, Catherine, Susan and Abigail. I had the pleasure of often seeing them all when I was from four to seven years of age. They then soon scattered to distant homes and different states. My grandfather died about 1818 when I was five years old. I remember distinctly of hearing his funeral preached one bright Sunday, by Rev. William Duncan. Grandpa, I learned, had been a Baptist preacher, and the first family prayer I ever heard, he held in his room, and the first hymn I ever heard to remember, was then and there started by himself as follows: “Awake my soul in joyful lays, and sing thy great redeemer’s praise.”

Gideon, my Father, married Betsy Carter, the beautiful and only daughter of Abram Carter. I am the second son of these two, born 1813. My Grandma Carter was first Mary Roberts, so then my blood and pedigree is Goodrich, Pearce, Carter and Roberts. . . .

Three days before I was seventeen, we left our home and country for the far west [of that time]. In conjunction with Uncle Joe Carter and family and Uncle Creed Carter and his family, we spent the last Saturday and Sunday at Grandpa Carter’s, and what a host of people, black and white, men, women and children and neighbors and loving ones without stint. The appointed Monday morning came, the twenty-seventh of September, 1830, which should separate Mother, Daughter, Son and Father and loved friends forever. No, not forever, for we meet again beyond the fear of charge [?] or change.

There were thirty or forty people however who on horseback and in vehicles, accompanied us to the top of the Blue Ridge, where in a beautiful sag of the mountain and close to a great spring that ever rolled and splashed its cold and limpid rivulet down the eastern slope of the mountain, we camped. From this high mountain, you can see through the blue ether as far as your eye can reach in every direction and such a vast domain, such an assemblage of mountains, hills, vales and streams as your unobstructed vision includes is rarely enjoyed anywhere else. We part from our kind friends, with tears on the part of the grown up, but with gladness and lightness of heart on the part of the children, and roll down that western slope to North River, one of the branches of the James, and amid fine farms and lovely meadows to the city of Lexington, the county seat of Rockbridge County, then on a few miles to a lovely walnut grove on a small creek near a Presbyterian Meeting-house where I saw the first tomb stone I had ever seen. Read many of the inscriptions, most of which referred to some Wilson, young or old. Here we spent our second night in the tent. Next day on our road through North mountains to Jordan’s iron works, we saw the streams of melted iron as they rolled on in the little trenches in sand to form what is called “pig iron,” saw great ladles of melted iron borne each by two men and poured into the hand made moulds for cog wheels, kettles, pots, ovens, skillets and etc. Also saw turn [?] within the burning firey furnace the best commentary of that place in olden times in which the three Hebrew children, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were cast. That bright day, my birthday, was spent along the lovely vale of the Cowpasture river, another branch of the celebrated James. We are now in Bath County, the home of those wonders of nature, The Hot Springs, now, on we roll for Covington on the Jackson, a broad crystal stream from the north east among the Alleghanies. Here we crossed into Greenbriar County, the home of the great meadows of which I had read so much in “Weem’s - Life of Washington.” Here too, we bid farewell for a long time to rock and hill and ditch and gulch, so far as our road lay in Virginia, for this morning we enter on the great western turnpike, graded and bridged in modern style. On this lovely road we came to the White Sulphur Springs, so noted among America’s finest watering places. Here we saw the first “United States Mail Stage” with four dashing horses and a high seated driver, with a handful of lines, going at a furious rate, reminding me of the driving of Jehu of old, and enough to make a poor ignorant boy indeed believe that he was entering into a new world, and in this vicinity too, I saw the first dancing hall, its golden sign reading thus:

DANCING HALL
by HUGH McLAUGHLIN

And now we enter the first fine latticed and covered bridge across the broad and lovely Greenbriar River and here too, we are in that land where, as a pioneer minister of the gospel, has held and preached by Baptists and devoted and faithful John Alderson, the Grandfather of sister J. T. Bobbitt, laid the foundation of some of West Virginia’s most famous churches. Then on over the great Alleghanies and on its lofty summit I saw and felt the best illustrations of the soul thirsting for the water of life that I have ever seen. All weariend and warm and thirsty on this warm October day, we gained these heights and when lifting our eyes, we saw a board nailed to a sapling and bearing in large black letters this welcome and joyful sign: GOOD WATER. We saw a well beaten path leaving the great road and to the right about forty yards a spring. The solid limestone had been chiseled out to about the size of any ordinary wash tub, with two large notches, one on the farther side and one on this side and through these, a cold and copious mountain stream was pouring. Here we all fairly shouted for joy. We slacked to the utmost our raging thirst, gave also to the horses, all they would drink. Cooled and rested now, we pursued our present way. . . . Now soon we came to the high bluffs and pinacles to New River, which comes roaring down from the south, even from the edge of North Carolina, to join the Gauley, and thus to constitute the renowned Kanhawa. Here on this first named river, is the “Hawk’s Nest” which has been graphically described by Jefferson in his Notes of Virginia. Shall I attempt a brief description? On the highlands, John Closhy, then a young man, and I, were away behind the wagons on foot, and seeing a broad path leaving the road, on our left, we took it and in less than 100 yeard [sic] we stood upon the most awful bluffs that my eyes ever beheld. One thousand feet below is the vale and the river which amazing chasm seemed to produce an atmospheric vacuum, which seemed to pull us over. He lay down on his belly, and I lay down on him and held his feet while he climbed along to the overhanging edge and looked down. A moment or two sufficed; and then, crawling back, we changed places. He took my feet while I peeped over to see to some degree the awful grandeur of this wonder of Virginia’s majestic solitude. Such is the illustration of such scenes that the river seems almost under you. You throw a stone and yet not hard for fear you will throw beyond and fail to see your stone splash in the sparkling waters. But to your surprise, the stone falls far short of the river, and you throw again and throw your best, and yet you cannot reach the nearest shore. Several years after this, Uncle Creed Carter went back to Virginia and, having heard John and I talk often of this place, he stopped and tried to throw a stone across, but it failed to even reach the river. About one mile from this place, you begin to descend these heights in a splendid road cut aslant and down the solid rock as you have seen on an outside stairway in cities and landing on the street. Here you cross Gauley bridge, a state structure, superbly built and here then was the western terminus of Virginia’s great turnpike.
Here we enter the great salt and coal region. Let me speak awhile on these marvelous stores of the Almighty. Laid away in the unknown past for the well being of man and beast, but first let me say that in its original state, this was the very paradise for all the animals of the forest, and especially such to the Indians and in proof of this, I mention the fact that they gave these regions up with greater reluctance to the intruding white men than ever the dark and bloody ground itself...

[At Charleston, West Virginia] we ferry the river on the first horse boat, and here Edmund and I and a negro boy got drunk on ginger bread, soaked with peach brandy. (UNWILLINGLY OF COURSE) Here we lost Music, our finest hound, yet we had two fine ones left, and this evening we boys traveled a mile or two with the first drunken woman I ever saw. Her antics kept us (only partly sobered boys) in great glee. This evening too, I saw and examined my first steam mill. You will say that I was learning fast; yes, traveling is a great, though as you see, not a very good school for boys, and now for another day or so and we come to GUYANDOTTE, at the mouth of the river Ohio. The sight struck with awe my little land locked soul, for I had never conceived that there was so much water in the world. Now down along its southern shore for a day or so, and we crossed Big Sandy river, the dividing line of Virginia and Kentucky. Here we leave our native state forever.

Now we begin to see a marked change in men and things, particularly in negroes, for the second day we had to whip one. The case was this. One had cut a small beach tree across the road. All our wagons were stopped and Pa kindly said, "Make haste, and get that tree out of the road." "God damn it," said the negro man, "Go around there." This was more than an old Virginian was in the habit of hearing or could stand. So taking a black snake whip out of our driver's hands, he soon cured him of his shines, and I have never seen a negro chop so well in my life. Soon now, we leave this Ohio vale and enter that celebrated part of Eastern Kentucky called the Knobs, and Knobs they are. I have seen the fifth leader going down hill and the middle horse going up the same and the hind horses and long wagon coming down the last past knob, all at the same moment. You may have seen some Kentuckian who came from near and your Ma was one of them, yet you never so one that came immediately out of the Knob. It is like me, I came from near Sodom, but not out of it.

Soon now, however, we began to see the outskirts of the famous Blue grass region of which Bourbon, Fayette, Scott, Woodford, and Shelby [Counties are] the grand center. We went largely out of our way to see Lexington and Ashland, the home of Henry Clay, for my Father was a great Whig and an admirer of the champion of his party. We were well paid in seeing this. Fayette county [is] the acknowledged garden of Kentucky. Here I saw the flying shuttle loom, weaving cotton bagging for lords of the south, some of whom annually raise a thousand bales. On now for Kentucky's capital, in the bottom of a hat, as Henry Clay once said in a speech, the object of which was to remove the capital to Lexington. Between these two cities we had to ship two more impudent negro wagoners for not giving half of the road. One of our men chased a large mulatto over the stiler with a leaded carriage whip and just as the negro landed into his own yard, he snatched the whip and gave our man an egg on the forehead to carry on to Missouri with him. The last negro was in the suburbs of Frankfort and we not only gave him a good drubbing, but turned his wagon bottom upwards in the road. What a wonder we were not arrested and fined! You couldn't do the like now and escape. At our camps on this edge of the "Hat city", and on to this side of Kentucky river, we were joined by Colonel Henry Anderson, Mr. Barr and lady, and Brother and Mr. Fletcher, and had their company making quite a caravan, all the way to Montgomery county Missouri, but to show the unsuspecting simplicity of the whole gang, I relate this incident.

Within the suburbs of Louisville, there stood a man, a lying drummer, for a ferry at Jeffersonville, a little old starved town of Indiana, to tell us the small pox was in Louisville and urged us for our own safety to turn that way. We went, alas for our sense and stomach, we went that way, not one thing could we buy to eat and the whole crowd was about out of provisions and bacon especially. Away towards the center of that then wretched state, we camped one cloudy
Sunday evening with bread and coffee only for supper. That meal, which with movers and school children is the all important one to fill up the vacuum left by a mere cold lunch at noon, but for a moment our hopes are raised. An elderly man, living near, told us he would sell us as many fine chickens as we could catch. We had two hounds, as I said, and we could run like new rabbits, therefore, as good as had all the chickens we could eat. They were all around the house, which was a wide old log concern and just far enough above ground for a hen to creep under, and the moment these oft chased fowls saw what was up, they all simultaneously dashed with wing and legs for the oft tried asylum under the house, so not a chicken did we carry to camp. Here my mother cried, for she had three little hungry children, one of whom was sick. She didn’t only cry, but talked a little. She said, “Yes, all the talk has been, we are going to a plentiful country, and this is what we have come to. Children crying and nothing but bread to eat," but she had been raised in the lap of luxury and ease, and this is her first lesson in pioneer life. I could have wept on her account but next day we came to a widow lady who had killed a good sized hog and had jerked the sides and we bought them both, and at dinner, you should have seen us eat. It was pronounced by all as the sweetest, best meat they ever ate.

Then next day we came to Vincennes, on the Wabash, where we could buy all we wanted. Here we cross over by ferry into Illinois, rich, level and very thinly settled. We could buy corn and fat venison almost at our own prices. Here on, one twenty-five mile grand prairie we had the only rain that fell on us in eight hundred miles or in fifty-two days. Here again, we came close to having another fight about an indifferent old bridge that crossed Shoal creek, called "Nigger Bridge." With a rail across for a gate, our impudent young men opened the thing against the orders of the toll gatherer and without paying a cent, we drove on. Where were the officers of the law? Why were we not arrested? Here in these causewayed forests, we lost another fine hound, Drummer, gone after a deer and we couldn’t wait. Soon we came to Edwardsville and then for Alton, where we crossed over in a fine horse boat into Missouri, the long talked of Missouri, and on through the ridges and largest bottoms I ever saw, with corn heavier and pumpkins larger than I have ever elsewhere seen. St. Charles is reached, of which I had read so much. As the starting place of Louis and Clark on their celebrated tour of exploration up the turbulent Missouri and down the Columbia to the great Pacific in 1804-5 and 6. Upon the north side of the Missouri river, now through St. Charles, Warren, Montgomery to Calliway county, one mile west of Fulton, we pitched our last tent, leased land of Edward S. Ellis for four or five years, built houses, bought corn at 75 cents per barrel in the field and one dollar shucked and in the pile. Pork at two twenty five net. Now for several years I worked beyond my second growth and was in the woods with a rifle whenever I could get the chance. Here my Mother, in going to see the ice breaking up in the creek after the terrible winter and deep snow in 1831, slipped and fell and broke her hip bone, and was laid in bed for many months, but my little sisters, Mary and Elizabeth, with me to help them, kept things up pretty well. In two years, Pa sold out his lease to the owners for a three year old colt and one hundred dollars, but it took the dollars to pay up doctors bills and other small debts. (We did not go in debt then as we do now. What would you think of working boys 14 and 17 years of age being out all day from week to week in north Missouri with the snow three feet and more deep with a pair of low shoes and linsy pants that did not meet their shoes by 3 or 4 inches, and without drawers? Could you stand it? Yet this was our manner of life and we didn’t grumble, nor die, and yet, I wonder why?) Pa then entered (thats the word in buying land from the U.S.) forty acres of land nine miles further west, near Uncle Creed’s and here he, Edmund and I, in August and September, 1832, built a good nice and comfortable house, cleared land, broke prairie, for it was mixed, raised enough corn of a dry summer of ’33 to do us. Here my Father was slowly weakened by that incurable disease called diabetes, (sweetness and copiousness of urine) after which we was never able to work. He taught school one session and ceased to labor at all. Here on the 13th night of November, 1833, the stars fell of which you have read. This fall Pa sold out our little new home to Robert Martin for five dollars per acre, two hundred dollars, went to the land office at Palmyra and entered 80 acres, seven miles south of Paris. This will be our poor but pleasant home for several years.

Passing over these unpromising years, thirty four entirely, only to state that we built houses and moved to this new place and that my Father grew worse and weaker until on the 8th day of April, 1835 he called us all to his bedside and bade us farewell. Oh, he had suffered so long and so much, yet had never murmured. The last words in the previous night, I heard him utter were these. "My spirit flies to thee, with infinite desire, and yet how far from thee I lie, dear Jesus, raise me higher." Thus a strong man once, but now so weak [did] pass away his 50th year. I doubt not to that land of peace and rest reserved for all people of God, now ye widow and orphans ye are left to mourn for many days, but thy husband and thy Father, God shall watch over you all, and shall keep you safe from harm.

Editor's note: Abram Carter Goodrich later married Elizabeth Davis and lived for many years with his family in Paris, Missouri. In 1878, at age 65, Goodrich made a second cross-country move to this time by rail. He moved to a farm near Waxahachie, Ellis County, Texas, just south of Dallas. Goodrich wrote this manuscript autobiography in 1888, and was known to be living in 1891. Minor corrections have been made in spelling and grammar, but the manuscript remains essentially untouched, reflecting word usage and attitudes of the 19th century. Later sections of the autobiography are not included, and are largely theological in nature. Thus the above memoir reflects the common experience of Abram Goodrich and his brother Robert, our ancestor. The route taken by the Goodrich family from Virginia to Missouri roughly follows present day Interstate Highway 64.
Travis County, Texas Pioneer Families
as compiled from the Travis County, Texas 1850 Federal Census
by Barbara and Jerry Goudreau

Starting with the September 1995 issue of AGSQ, we have been presenting successive portions of the family listings in the Travis County, Texas Federal Census for year 1850 as compiled and annotated by the late Barbara and Jerry Goudreau. No listings are included in this issue since the annual Ancestor Listings takes precedence. We expect to complete the listings through Family Number 423 (the final family carried in the 1850 Census) in the September 1998 issue.

As a followup to this very worthwhile series the Society expects to combine the listings, along with all additional material on these families that we have received, and publish them in book form in the near future. We have already obtained from our readers much supplemental material on over 40 of the families. We actively seek more information which can be included so that the project will be of maximum genealogical value. Please mail (no phone or e-mail) typed copies of such material, identifying each family by family number, to the Editor at 4500 Hyridge Drive, Austin TX 78759. Your material will be included and you will be credited with its submission. We want as much hard data as possible (births, deaths, marriages, interments, etc) but will not rule out family tradition if it has genealogical significance.

In concert with this policy we copy below a letter from Maria C. Costley providing additional information on Families 208 (Ivy Thompson), 283 (Augustas Fore) and 337 (Rebecca Washington). Maria sent a number of pages of supplemental material with her letter which is too voluminous for inclusion here but will be placed in the Vertical Files for those families at the State Library. We thank Maria for her thoughtful and helpful letter:

I don't know if I mailed this information to Barbara Goudreau or not, but in reviewing the back issues of the Quarterly, I have some additional information I would like to contribute.

Family #298 Ivy Thompson (sp. Ivy in BG data--Ed.)

Mahala (Mussett) Thompson listed in this family is the mother of John M. Costley (Family#312). Mahala Mussett married Michael Costley in 1827 in Washington County, MO. They had a son, John Mussett Costley (above), who was born in Washington County, MO, before they came to Texas. Michael Costley abandoned his wife Mahala and married Elizabeth Reed by whom he had two children, William and James Costley. Michael Costley gets killed in a shoot out with the District Clerk of Nacogdoches County and leaves a rather large estate that continues in probate from his death in 1837 until 1850. On 12 Sep 1839, Mahala Mussett Costley marries James Ervin Thompson in Burleson County. The information we have on this marriage was passed down through the Thompson/Mussett branch of the family to my cousin, Anice Vance in Temple. Unfortunately, the Burleson County Courthouse burned and all records for that time period were lost. This branch of the Thompson/Mussett family lived for a while in Travis County and eventually settled on property that is now Fort Hood.

Anyone wishing to know more about the Thompson branch of the family should contact Anice Vance, 2613 Forest Trail, Temple, TX 76502. She would be more than happy to correspond with other related Thompsons.

John Mussett Costley had property in Travis County and Coryell County and eventually settled in Travis County.
William Costley lived in Bastrop County for a few years and eventually settled in McLennan County where his branch of the family lived for numerous years. I have no idea what happened to James Costley (Family #362) after the 1850 Census.

I have enclosed (1) a copy of the information from the Handbook of Texas regarding Michael Costley; (2) 1860 Census of Coryell County, p. 46 #330; and (3) Family Group Sheet on James Erwin Thompson.

Michael Costley and Mahalia Mussett are my great-great grandparents. John Mussett Costley was the only child of their marriage.

Family #283, Augustus Fore (sp. Augustas in BG data—Ed.)

Born ca. 1815 NC; died ca. 1864; married ca 1839 to Elizabeth, who was born ca 1818 in TN

Augustus & Elizabeth had four children:

(1) Sarah Fore. According to the 1850 Census was only 10 years old; however, she married William Sloan King Mussett on 2 mar 1858, in Coryell County; she died in June 1859 in Austin, TX. Therefore, she had to have been older than 10 at the time of the 1850 Census. William S.K. Musselt is a cousin of the Mussetts in Family #20, #208 and #370.

(2) Miranda Fore. Born Ca. 1852 in TX

(3) Ann E. Fore. Born ca. 1855 in TX

(4) James M. Fore. Born ca. 1859 in TX

I have enclosed copies of (1) the marriage of William S.K. Mussett and Sarah A. Fore from the Coryell County Marriage Records; (2) information extracted by my cousin Anice Vance from the Coryell County Court Records; (3) information extracted from the Probate Records of Coryell County; and (4) my Family Group Sheet on William Sloan King Mussett. Of the people mentioned, James H. Mussett is the son of William Sloan King Mussett, Mrs. Elizabeth Fore is the widow of Augustus Fore.

Family #337, Rebecca Washington

Genealogy of this family is listed in the Handbook of Texas, Vol. 1, p. 865; Historical MarkerDedication of Col. Lewis Miles Hobbs Washington, 1984, from the Travis County Collections of the Austin Public Library (too thick to copy—Call # A976.40074 OwWa; Pioneer Women in Texas, by Pickerell, p. 73; Annals of Travis County, by Brown, Chapter 18, p. 12-13 and Chapter 17, p. 19; Obituary of Mrs. A. R. Withers from the Vertical Files on Lewis Miles Hobbs Washington at Barker History Center; and the Obituary of Virginia Rowe Cooksey on Sunday, 13 Jan 1991, in the Austin-American Statesman. This family is related to former Mayor Frank Cooksey.

I have included copies of the information cited above, except for the Historical Marker Dedication information above, in order to save you the time and trouble of tracking down the sources. I hope this helps and I apologize if I have duplicated any of the information I passed along before.

Also, pages 36-41 of the March 1998 AGS Quarterly were printed too high on the page and are not legible. Is there any way I can get a legible copy? It has been very interesting reading all the information on the 1850 Census, especially since I have so many related families in Travis County, and I look forward to upcoming issues. (Ed. Note: They are reprinted in this issue.)

Sincerely,

Maria C. Costley

G.B. McClusky, was reputed to be the step-father of Penina Browning, born 1812 in TN. Mr. McClusky came to Texas in 1840. He was an officer in the Creek and Seminole war under Gen. Jackson. He was noted to be an aggressive Indian fighter, and was also in Texas mounted Rangers. He was a pioneer and a soldier. Served in Battle of New Orleans, Battle of Horseshoe Bend. He was associate Justice of Travis County 1843-1845. Coroner 1846, Justice of the Peace 1850. "From the Annals of Travis County" by Frank Brown came the following information: Capt. George B. McCloskey died in Austin 23 November in his 69th year. He lived in Austin until his death. Mrs. Penina Browning a daughter (Probably a step-daughter), and Mrs. Philian Glasscock and Sarah E. Whipple were grandchildren. Buried at Oakwood:

The Austin Genealogical Society
GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE: Austin Genealogical Society was organized in 1960 as a not-for-profit corporation chartered by the State of Texas. Its purposes are to collect and preserve genealogical and historical information about the people of Texas, particularly pertaining to the City of Austin and to Travis and surrounding counties; to instruct and assist members in genealogical research; and to publish public and private records of genealogical interest. In addition, the AGS supports the Genealogical Collection, Texas State Library by donations of books and other genealogical material. Gifts and bequests to AGS are tax-deductible to the full extent permitted by law.

MEMBERSHIP is open to all upon payment of annual dues. Classes: Individual: $20; Family (two in the same household): $30.00; Patron of AGS: $100.00; Lifetime: $500.00 ($300 if over 65). All classes entitle one copy of each Quarterly and monthly Newsletter, as well as two pages apiece (a total of four pages for Family or higher whether one or two people submit listings) in the Ancestor Listing issue (June). After 1 July, dues are $10.00 for the balance of the year, but you will only receive the publications produced after the date you join.

DUES FOR EXISTING MEMBERS ARE PAYABLE on or before JANUARY FIRST of each year for the ensuing year. If dues are not received by 1 February, the name must be dropped from the mailing list. If membership is reinstated later and Quarterlies and Newsletters have to be mailed individually, postage must be charged. (Back Quarterlies are supplied only IF available—very few extras are printed). Send payment to AGS Treasurer, P.O. Box 1507, Austin TX 78767-1507.

MEETINGS of the general membership begin at 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month except August and December. Members are encouraged to come as early as 6:30 to socialize with each other. MEETING PLACE: Highland Park Baptist Church, 5206 Balcones Dr. Take Northland (FM 2222) exit off Loop 1 (Mopac). Go west one block to Balcones Dr, then left 1 ½ blks. The Church and parking lot are on right. VISITORS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME. The Board of Directors meets at 6:15 in a separate room.

BOOK REVIEW POLICY: Books on appropriate subjects related to genealogy will be reviewed, but CANNOT be reviewed in AGSQ on the basis of advertising alone. If a review copy is received by the Review Editor at 2202 W. 10th. St., Austin TX 78703 by the first of February, May, August or October, it will be reviewed in the next Quarterly, space permitting. It will then be placed in the Genealogy Collection, Texas State Library, available to all patrons.

CHECK RETURN POLICY: Members and other payees must pay AGS the cost of any returned check (currently $5.00) over and above the charge their bank may impose.

AGS QUARTERLY is issued about the middle of March, June, September and November. Contributions are welcome, subject to editing for style/size. Contributor is completely responsible for accuracy and any copyright infringement. AGS assumes no responsibility for content of submitted material. See inside front cover for address.

ANCESTOR LISTING PAGES (June issue of Quarterly) must reach the Editor at 4500 Hyridge Drive, Austin TX 78759-8054 by the TENTH OF MAY. They must be BLACK and LEGIBLE, whether typed, hand-written, computer-printed or in superior calligraphy. Months must be SPELLED or abbreviated, not in figures. DATES SHOULD BE SHOWN in accepted genealogical style, that is, DAY, MONTH, YEAR (4 nos.). Allow space for binding at inner margins of facing pages; i.e., your first page will be a left-hand page. Carefully check horizontal pages (reading in the 11-inch direction). Otherwise, the Editor has to position some pages upside down to prevent loss of data in the stapling-punching process. NO 8 1/2x14 sheets, please!

You may submit Lineage or Family Group charts, Ahnentafels, narratives, cemetery inscriptions, Bible records, census data, queries, or a combination of material, just so it is not under copyright. BE SURE to proofread your material for accuracy and clarity so we will not publish faulty or incorrect data. Put name and address of submitter on each page in legible form (not blind embossed). Consult a recent June Quarterly for suggestions. Remember that reproductions are dimmer than originals so try to provide good quality originals.

REMEMBER: Individual membership secures two facing pages.
Family or higher membership allows you four pages.

DEADLINES for everything in the Quarterly except book reviews: 10th of February, May, August and October. Material sent addressed only to AGS Box Number may not reach Editor in time.
